TWELVE DIE IN PLANE CRASH IN WYOMING

Nine Passengers, Pilot, Co-pilot and Stewardess Killed When Big Machine Wrecked

Plane Hits One Hill; Lands on Another

Associated Press
Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 7.—Twelve persons—nine passengers and a crew of three—were crushed to death early to-day when a United Air Lines transport plane crashed on a knoll on the rolling plains fifteen miles west of here. The ship was flying from Oakland, California, to New York.
The veteran pilot, H. A. Collison, apparently had started down from a high altitude in ideal weather with his trimotored liner, preparatory to a scheduled stop here, when he struck the top of one hill, lost his propeller and plummeted against another hillside. The plane did not catch fire.
The crumpled wreckage was found by a fleet of searchers dispatched from here near dawn just as another band of airmen took off from Salt Lake City to seek a Standard Oil Company transport plane missing in the briny area of Great Salt Lake with three persons aboard since Sunday.

LIST OF VICTIMS
Besides Co-pilot George Batty and Stewardess Leona Mason a tentative list of those killed in the disaster was announced by United Air Lines as follows:
G. H. Miner, Park Lane Hotel, Chicago; C. H. Matthews Jr., Pittsburgh; John F. Cushing, Evanston, Ill., president of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Company of Chicago; Roy R. Baine, en route from Salt Lake City to Chicago; Vincent Butler, San Francisco.

No Change In Bread Prices

There will be no change in bread prices for some time yet.
Due to the fluctuation in the price of wheat, J. R. Small, secretary of the Victoria Baking Association, declared to-day that the price of bread would not rise until it was sure that the flour market would stay at the present high figure.
Most of the bakers have enough to carry them for a month, Mr. Small said. "We will not raise the bread price until we are forced to."

Delay Seen In Pension Scheme

Municipal Employers and Employees in Deadlock; to See Government

A delay of at least one year in presentation to the B.C. Legislature of a new superannuation bill was forecast to-day as the municipal union planned to discuss the question with Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary.
This, it was indicated by municipal authorities, would be the likely outcome of a deadlock that has arisen between the employees and their municipal employers over proposed changes.
Last session the Superannuation Act was revised on an actuarially sound foundation and, because of objection from the municipal ranks, only provincial civil servants were included. A new plan for the municipal employees was to be worked out for next session.
The Union of B.C. Municipalities put activities to work on this scheme, but, it was stated to-day, the am-

He used a spade on which there was a brass plate with an engraving suitable to the occasion. In black letters on the brass it had the name "Mayor G. G. ### Detroit Tigers Beat Chicago To Win Ball Title

Goose Goslin's Single in Ninth Inning Scores Manager Mickey Cochrane With Winning Run in 4 to 3 Victory; Clubs Put on Hitting Exhibition as Lead Changes Several Times

Billy Herman Smashes Homer
Associated Press
Nevin Field, Detroit, Oct. 7.—Detroit's Tigers, American League champions, won their first world baseball championship to-day, beating the Chicago Cubs, National League titleholders, 4 to 3, in the deciding sixth game, a slugger duel with the lead changing half a dozen times before a howling, thrill-soaked crowd of 48,420.

The Tigers won the series by four games to two as the veteran Goose Goslin drove home Mickey Cochrane with the deciding run in the ninth inning.
The tide shifted back and forth, finally settling with the dogged Tigers as Larry French, Chicago southpaw, and Tommy Bridges, curve ball right-hander, who had already pitched one victory, locked in the deciding duel under almost perfect weather conditions, and before the greatest crowd in Detroit's baseball history.

The issue was always in doubt up to the ninth, and, starting that inning, the Cubs had a tremendous chance to break the tie themselves and force the series into a final seventh game to-morrow.

The Tigers got away to a one-run lead in the first inning only to have Chicago tie it up again in the third. The new champions got a 2 to 1 lead in the fourth but Billy Herman's home run in the fifth with French on first put Chicago one run ahead. In the last of the sixth Marvin Owen, Detroit substitute first baseman, totaled close to 2,000,000 was spent

SUEZ NOT TO BE CLOSED

Directors Say Canal Company Neutral in Italo-Ethiopian Fight

Associated Press
Paris, Oct. 7.—Directors of the Suez Canal Company, after a meeting to-day reiterated their assertion the canal will remain open to all countries during the hostilities in East Africa.
Only a blockade or an attack by some other country would prevent Italian ships from using the waterway, the officials said. They also characterized as "ridiculous" reports the board had considered raising the rates on Italian ships.

An official statement published by the company said it would be impossible for the directors to take any decision on closing of the Canal by "sanctions."
"The company is a commercial firm, and therefore neutral," the statement said. "The canal, therefore, remains open."
Simultaneously, a movement in favor of negotiating quickly with Premier Mussolini for settlement of his controversy with Ethiopia gained ground after the Italians had reached their Aduwa goal.

The influential newspaper Petit Parisien issued a strong appeal to the League of Nations, declaring it was not too late for negotiations.

Delay Seen In Pension Scheme

Employees have refused to consider any change which means lower pensions or increased contributions.

The municipal authorities, on the other hand, say they cannot continue under the existing scheme, which already has them in the hole to the tune of many thousands of dollars for pensions a year for service prior to the act coming into effect. The government has had to make this good and is charging them with the interest on it.

The fund, as far as current contributions are concerned, is quite sound but in the matter of prior service pensions is going deeper into debt every year for municipal employees.

A special committee named by the union will hold a meeting this week and afterwards plans to interview Dr. Weir and lay the whole situation before him.

In view of the stand taken by the employees, the municipal authorities were unable to-day to see that a bill could be ready for the next session. If employees persisted in their stand, two solutions were open, but both were too drastic to contemplate at the present time, it was stated. One would be to dismiss all municipal employees approaching pension age; the other for the municipal authorities to put up the extra money required to make the fund good and then slash salaries to meet it. These appeared as the only avenues unless some new basis for the superannuation scheme could be agreed on.

POLICE SLAIN IN MANITOBA

The two policemen were due at Pelly, Sask., about fifteen miles away. Friday night, they were en route. They did not arrive, but no hunt was started until the finding of the bodies this morning.

AUTO MISSING

It was believed the men had been killed early Saturday. No trace was found of the automobile in which they had left with their prisoners, Joe Rosenthal, Peter Whitting and a man named Kalkhoff. The three men were arrested at Bemis on a charge of robbery and left in the custody of the officers that night.

The officers' bodies were discovered by John Kollenchuk, Arran, Sask., farmer, when his horses refused to pass a wooded stretch of the road. He located the bodies and returned to Bemis and raised the alarm.

Municipal Work Loans $300,000

Council: Nanaimo, $80,000 for replacement and extension to the waterworks system; Alberni, $28,000 for a new six-room school; Esquimalt, $5,500 for sewer extension at Skinner Flats; Surrey, $30,000 for surfacing and improving roads; Delta, $10,000 for surfacing and improving roads; Peachland, $2,000 for roads; Revelstoke, $28,000 for hydro-electric developments.

In addition Kaslo has applied for $13,700 for pipe lines and Esquimalt asks an addition $3,000 for surfacing Craigflower Road. These have yet to be completed.

Vancouver, in the meantime, is going ahead with a public works programme totalling around $1,700,000 mostly financed by "baby bonds." The government is spending money there on a new "T.R." wing in the hospital and Equilmait is building a home for the aged and infirm from Esquimalt.

ITALY REJECTS PLAN TO END FIGHTING

ITALIANS DENY PEACE MOVES

Associated Press
Rome, Oct. 7.—Peace terms for Ethiopia, Italian officials said today, are farthest from their thoughts.

A government spokesman laughed at the idea that the Italians had suggested terms to Emperor Haile Selassie, asserting: "Our campaign has just started."

Officially there is no war.

Rumors of Italian peace proposals were heard in Addis Ababa to-day.

NOMINATIONS MADE FOR 169 SEATS

BIGGEST NUMBER ON RECORD

With the advance nominations made a week ago, this gives between 850 and 900 who will face the voters October 14. The average will be approximately four candidates for every seat. It will assure the greatest free-for-all election struggle since Confederation.

Liberals and Conservatives are running in nearly every constituency, with the government party estimated to have about fifteen fewer candidates than the Liberals. The Reconstruction Party is competing in more than three-fifths of the struggles and the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in about half of the constituencies.

In the west the Social Credit Party, victorious in the late August Alberta provincial election, has candidates in Saskatchewan and Alberta. But Social Credit is not making a bid in the east.

CONFERENCE KING'S PLAN

Interest and principal on the public debt should be reduced, but a national scheme, backed by all provinces, was needed.

A uniform method of dealing with mortgage and other private debts was a great need. Now no two provinces used the same method.

MUST END TAX INCREASED

Canada and its provinces could not go on piling up public debt. Neither could they go on increasing taxes. No matter how much one taxed the rich, income taxes would only be a small part of the total revenue required. The poor were being taxed heavily now by tariffs and sales taxes. The field of taxation would have to be reviewed as between the provinces and the Dominion.

When Prime Minister Bennett came into office he had a good chance to deal with the provinces and to enlist their co-operation. Several of the provinces were then under Conservative governments. Now that was changed and all the provinces but one had Liberal governments.

BENNETT'S LECTURES

Mr. Bennett had called a few conferences, said Mr. King, but they had lasted only a few days and the proceedings consisted only in a lecture from Mr. Bennett.

His conference, he proposed, would remain at work until an agreement was reached on every problem in which both provinces and the Dominion had any common interests.

The Liberal provincial premiers were all his personal friends, said Mr. King. They all had confidence in him and he in them. If Mr. Bennett were returned to office, on the contrary, he would find it even more difficult to deal with the provinces than he had in the past. Consequently the Liberal Party was the only party which offered the slightest hope of that measure of Dominion-provincial co-operation which alone could put Canada on the right path.

Unemployment on the scale now experienced was due to the faulty trade policies of the Bennett government, Mr. King said.

BENNETT'S PROMISES

Mr. King was introduced by Hon. L. J. Simpson, Ontario Minister of Education, who said: "Mr. Bennett may say that for a moment you were alarmed about Mr. Bennett. If you knew him as well as I do you would never be frightened of him. I have heard him explode many times. When he comes out for some reform I look for what he is trying to conceal. While he talked of government control and intervention he was handing the Bank of Canada over to the control of the money power and doing away with all government control."

SOLARIUM TAG PROCEEDS $360

Saturday's tag day for the Queen Alexandra Solarium netted the handsome sum of approximately $360, which will be used to purchase new blankets, sheets and bedspreads, the supply of which is at the moment very low. The collection was arranged by the Victoria Women's Institute, and the convenor, Mrs. W. Peck, tenders grateful thanks to all who contributed and to the tapers who worked so splendidly.

French Premier's Proposal Hostilities in Ethiopia Cease and Neutral Zone Be Marked Is Not Accepted

Associated Press
Geneva, Oct. 7.—It was reported in League circles to-night that Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Italian representative at the League of Nations, had rejected a plea by Premier Laval of France that Italy immediately cease hostilities against Ethiopia.

This question, League circles understood, was under discussion between the two statesmen, and not, as was reported in some quarters, new proposals for peace.

It was reported Mr. Laval had also proposed to Baron Aloisi acceptance by Premier Mussolini of creation of a neutral zone in Ethiopia.

Sources close to the Ethiopian delegation said the Italian proposal to insist any armistice should be accompanied by complete withdrawal of all Italian troops from the east African Empire.

Gehring dropped a hit in short left that Galan tried to make a shoestring catch on but missed. It went for a double. Hack lashed a long hit against the scoreboard in right field for two bases. Jurgens bounced to Clifford and Hack was tagged out. Hack started to retreat his steps and for a moment it looked as though he had ducked under Clifford's lunge, but Umpire Moriarty ruled he had been tagged. It was another opportunity for the Cubs to get back to the lead, but they made the most of before going back to the field. No runs; one hit; no errors; one left.

Detroit—Fox lifted to Galan. Walker's high fly was grabbed by Jurgens near the box. Rogell dropped a long hit in the left field corner for two bases. candidates are in the field. They are: A. W. Neill (Independent). Reece Hague (Conservative). Colin Cameron (C.O.F.). E. R. Tait (Reconstruction Party). M. MacKinnon (Labor). Alex. MacNeil, who announced he would run as a Liberal, withdrew during the week.

The retiring member in each riding is seeking re-election. Mr. Plunkett, Mr. Dickie and Mr. Neill respectively won the Victoria, Nanaimo and Comox-Alberni seats in 1930.

Since last election there has been a redistribution which materially altered the ridings. Victoria especially is affected, since it now takes in both Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

Italy's Effort To Gain Time Fails

The Committee of Thirteen was composed of all the Council members except Italy.

EVENTS TRACED

The report as adopted traces the course of events in East Africa since October 3. It observes that under Articles 12, 13 and 15 of the covenant, it is the duty of all members of the League to submit disputes either to arbitration, judicial settlement or inquiry by the Council.

Under Article 12, the members agree in no case to resort to war until three months after the award by arbitrators or judicial decisions of the report by the Council.

The report refers to statements of the Italian representative before the Council on October 4 in which Italy reserved full liberty of action to ensure the safety of its colonies and safeguard its own interests, and on September 23 in which the Italian representative claimed that a case like Ethiopia cannot be settled by the means provided in the covenant.

MUST OBSERVE OBLIGATIONS

The report dismisses this contention with the comment: "Without prejudice to other limitations to their right to have recourse to war, members of the League of Nations do not have the right without previously conforming to Articles 12, 13 and 15 to seek by any remedy for their grievances which they may think they have against other members."

Under article 16, the covenant provides: "Should any member of the League resort to war in disregard of its covenants under articles 12, 13 or 15, it shall in doing so be deemed to have committed an act of war against all other members of the League, which hereby undertake immediately to subject it to the severance of all trade and financial relations."

The Committee of Thirteen, in adopting the conclusion of the Committee of Six, modified the wording slightly to adhere closely to the text at the beginning of Article 16 of the covenant.

League officials said this change did not weaken the report of the smaller committee, and, in fact, it gave notice that the Council definitely was operating under Article 16, which is concerned with sanctions against aggressor nations.

It was stated that under present plans, the League Assembly, when it meets Wednesday, will be asked to co-ordinate the economic and financial sanctions automatically called for against Italy.

BY ARBITRATION

The report emphasizes both Italy and Ethiopia were signatories to the Kellogg-Briant pact, which contains resort to force as a means of settling international differences and obliges its signatories to settle their quarrels by pacific means.

MANOEUVRE BLOCKED

At the beginning of to-day's discussions the League Council blocked an Italian manoeuvre for time.

When the committee's report was completed all that remained on the subject was a public session of the complete Council to vote on the report. Then the Italians asked postponement of a public session for more time to study the report.

The Ethiopians pressed for an immediate public meeting.

The decision to go ahead with a public session was conveyed to Baron Aloisi of Italy and Tecla Hawariste of Ethiopia at a private session, to which they were called as soon as the secret meeting ended.

Baron Aloisi and Hawariste sat at the council table.

Dr. Enriquez Ruiz of Argentina, Council President, invited the two parties to comment on the report of the Committee of Thirteen.

Baron Aloisi referred to the "insecurity" of the Italian frontiers which resulted from a series of aggressive acts by Ethiopia. He protested against the idea of comparing the Ethiopian attitude of aggression against Italy with the situation in respect to other powers which have colonies bordering on Ethiopia.

Referring to the recommendation in the report of the Committee of Thirteen that any violation of the covenant be ended immediately, the Italian delegate said his country believed it had in no manner committed any such violation.

Italy merely had taken necessary measures, he said, for the security of Italian colonies.

Baron Aloisi complained the acts of Ethiopian aggression denounced in the Italian memorandum had not been sufficiently examined by the committee. He said repeated violations by Ethiopia of treaties concluded with Italy were neglected in the committee's report.

He complained the committee had neglected to draw a conclusion from Ethiopia's violation of treaties that it no longer should be a League member.

Italy repudiated an allegation that it was opposed to an examination by the Council in the Italian Ethiopian dispute between December, 1934, and September, 1935, the spokesman insisted.

Delegate Hawariste answered Italy's arguments point by point and voiced Ethiopia's thanks to the Committee of Thirteen for its report, calling it fair to Ethiopia.

IMPORTANT MOVE

The fact the report was put to a vote in the Council to-day is regarded as of vital importance. A League Assembly resolution of 1921 lays down that it is for each state which is a member of the League to determine for itself whether an act of aggression has been committed.

Legally an actual vote is unnecessary. But on the other hand it is regarded in League circles as advantageous to have members of the Council definitely express their opinion. They are then pledged one way or another on the application of sanctions.

It is proposed to follow a similar course when the League Assembly meets Wednesday. There, after the delegates have had their say, the question will be submitted to a vote. The debate on the vote will indicate what states are ready to impose sanctions and how far they are prepared to go.

Two Killed and Two Seriously Injured on Roads Over
Week-end

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Oct. 7.—Traffic accidents in Vancouver and district over the week-end claimed two lives and left two persons in hospitals with serious injuries.

Mrs. Alice Napper of North Vancouver was killed when she was struck yesterday by a motor truck as she was wheeling a baby carriage carrying her infant child. The child escaped serious injury and a companion of Mrs. Napper, Mrs. M. S. Lewis, suffered a fracture of one arm.

John C. Stewart of Vancouver was fatally injured Saturday evening when struck by a hit-and-run motorist on the Pacific Highway near the international boundary while he was watching his son change a tire on his car.

Three-year-old Noreen Wood was taken to a hospital with a fractured skull after she apparently had fallen from the bumper of an automobile as it started from the curb.

Mrs. F. W. Bodner suffered fractures of both legs, face lacerations and a possible fracture of the skull when the automobile driven by her husband crashed into girders of the swinging span on the Granville Street bridge. Mr. Bodner was not seriously injured.

German Fuehrer Denies Dictatorships Cause Wars, As Baldwin Said

Canadian Press from Haver, Hemein-on-Weser, Germany, Oct. 7.—Chancellor Hitler was on record today with a vehement denial of the recent charge by Prime Minister Baldwin of Britain that dictatorships breed wars.

"It isn't true! War arises from democracy," the Fuehrer told a huge gathering of peasants from all parts of the Reich, here to attend the annual celebration of the harvest festival.

"Germany living within narrow confines and lacking raw materials and colonies, has a less simple problem than have the Soviet Union, France and Great Britain in the solution of their economic difficulties," the Chancellor said. He stressed the need for rigorous planned economy; and appealed to every citizen to discipline himself by making sacrifices.

SEATTLE GIRL OF SEVEN SLAIN

Body of Little Sally Kelley
Found Hanging on Garage
Door

Associated Press
Seattle, Oct. 7.—The belief that seven-year-old Sally Jean Kelley, found hanging to a garage door yesterday evening, was criminally assaulted in an apartment in the building where she was visiting her grandmother, was expressed today by Detective Capt. Ernest Tork of the homicide squad.

One man, arrested yesterday evening for questioning, still was held today and police were rounding up all known degenerates.

Coroner Otto H. Mittelstadt said residents of the apartment, on First Hill, where Sally Jean disappeared, told him they heard a child crying "Mamma! Mamma!" yesterday evening. He said an autopsy disclosed candy in Sally Jean's stomach.

The autopsy also disclosed that after being attacked, the little girl was disrobed, bathed and reclined before being hanged to the inside of a door in a garage rear the building where her grandmother, Mrs. Alfred Coolidge, lives.

Seattle Broker
Dies of Shock

J. E. Drain Succumbs Soon
After Learning of Larceny
Charges

Associated Press

Seattle, Oct. 7.—J. E. Drain, prominent Seattle broker, wanted here on grand larceny charges, accusing him of converting $21,104 to his own use after clients had entrusted various sums to him for investment, died suddenly in Boise, Idaho, yesterday.

No inquest will be held to determine the exact cause of death, according to J. T. McCann, Ada County coroner.

"Mr. Drain apparently died of a cardiac disorder suddenly at his hotel, examining physicians reported to me," the coroner said, "and I see no reason for conducting an inquest."

Drain had confided the money was given him as loans, and that he had given notes to his clients acknowledging his personal indebtedness.

His death occurred half an hour after he had learned over the long distance telephone he was wanted in Seattle on the charges.

Friendly believe the heart attack was brought on by the shock.

Drain was in the investment business in Seattle for twenty-two years, founding J. E. Drain and Company, which recently went into a receivership coincident with cancellation of its license by the state securities division. Harry C. Huse, state license director, charged the business was being conducted illegally—and the firm was insolvent. The Seattle Better Business Bureau co-operated in the case.

Search For Standard Oil Transport Machine and Crew Unsuccessful

Associated Press

Salt Lake City, Oct. 7.—Search for a Standard Oil Company transport plane, missing since early yesterday with its crew of three, was continued today.

Last reported shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday morning, when it had passed Selduro, Utah, en route to the Salt Lake airport, the giant plane, equipped with every modern flying device, had dropped suddenly and completely from sight.

A dozen planes all day yesterday combed an area 100 miles to the westward and sixty miles north and south, but were unable to find a clue to the probable fate of the missing ship and its crew.

They were: R. S. Allen, thirty-five, pilot; G. A. Lenz, thirty-five, co-pilot; and George C. Anderson, twenty-five, mechanic, all of Alameda, Cal.

The plane had left Oakland Saturday evening to pick up Harry D. Collier, vice-president of the Standard Oil Company of California, who had come here from New York City by train.

Party Returns After Crossing B.C. Wilds

Mrs. J. Norman Henry and Daughter-in-Vancouver
After Traveling 1,200
Miles in North With Guides: Gathered Plants

Vancouver, Oct. 7.—Mrs. J. Norman

Henry and her twenty-year-old daughter, Josephine, who arrived here from Prince Rupert, B.C., yesterday evening, were preparing to leave today for their home in Philadelphia after completing a 1,200-mile trek through northern British Columbia wilds that once defied an internationally-known explorer and his great cavalcade of horses and tractors.

Mrs. Henry, her daughter and six men made the hazardous journey from Fort St. John through the rugged wilderness between the Peace and Liard Rivers to the Coast that Charles Bedeaux and his party of 140 horses and five tractors attempted last summer only to be turned back by unfavorable weather conditions.

A director of the American Horticultural Society, Mrs. Henry had made three previous trips into the wilds of British Columbia and the Yukon since 1921 in search of specimens of sub-arctic plants.

GUIDES KNEW ROUTE

The journey was simple, Mrs. Henry said, due mainly to the organization of the party and the guiding in charge of K. F. McCusker, Dominion land surveyor. The only incident to mar the trip was when Jack McMillan, the cook, took sick near McName Creek. He was taken to the small trading post at McName Creek and later to Prince Rupert, where he is receiving hospital attention.

The party left Fort St. John July 10 with twenty-nine horses and struck out along the Peace and Liard Rivers. They forded a number of smaller streams and rafted the larger ones, reaching McName Creek September 22. Of the total distance traveled, 200 miles were on foot, Mrs. Henry said.

She plans to leave for home tomorrow.

Aberhart Announces Alberta

Plans For Relief in Addition to Hand-outs

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—Belief will be discontinued in Alberta as soon as the government begins to pay "basic dividends," Premier Aberhart said in an address at his Prophetic Bible Institute here yesterday.

A work programme as a relief measure in addition to a provincial relief dividend, for which no work would be required, was being considered by the government, the Premier announced. "This would be paid by an unearned increment levy on beer and other luxuries," he stated.

Mr. Aberhart declared that although he was busy with provincial government affairs, he may "get into the federal election fight," his addresses being directed to Saskatchewan voters.

During the period 10,233 applications for loans have been made. Five per cent interest is charged on first mortgage loans and 6 per cent on second mortgages.

No Peace Talk
Outside League

Britain Refuses to Countenance Italian Approaches to Ethiopia

By ROGER GREEN

London, Oct. 7.—Great Britain will not recognize or consent to, any peace overtures in the Italo-Ethiopian war unless they fall within the framework of the League of Nations jurisdiction, it was authoritatively declared here today.

A condition of equal importance, it was added, is that the terms must be based on the full consent and agreement of Ethiopia.

This viewpoint was reiterated in informed quarters after reports from Geneva, unconfirmed in official quarters, that peace proposals had been made, supposedly by Italy. It was foreshadowed after last Friday's conference between Sir Samuel Hoare, Foreign Secretary, and Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador to Great Britain.

Grandi officially advised Sir Samuel of Mussolini's dislike of the idea that in any agreement in regard to Ethiopia the consent of Emperor Haile Selassie was necessary. Mussolini, it was stated, indicated that was not his conception of how things should be done.

A similar course was taken in Paris, but it could not be learned how it was received there.

REPLY FROM FRANCE

The text of the French reply to the British inquiry regarding isolated attacks on British forces will be released for publication Tuesday morning. Meantime it was said in authoritative quarters that no definite action would be taken on the question of the munitions embargo before the Wednesday was forecast by the press today.

A decision to permit British aid to Emperor Haile Selassie's badly-equipped warriors hinges on the action of the League of Nations, expected in the next forty-eight hours, on the question of what form sanctions against the "war guilty" might take.

Premier Broke Rule and Addressed Audience at Mont Joli, Quebec

Mont Joli, Que., Oct. 7.—Prime Minister Bennett abandoned his traditional stand against political appearances on Sunday when a delegation of his supporters took him from a Montreal-bound train here yesterday evening and whisked him away to a hall, where it was stated a large crowd was waiting to hear him.

PRAYER CALL
CAUSED ALARM

Canadian Press from Haver, Addis Ababa, Oct. 7.—The shrill notes of a reed pipe calling the city's Moslems to evening prayer caused a near-panic among foreigners here Saturday evening.

Their nerves on edge from recurrent reports that an Italian bombing squadron was headed for Addis Ababa, foreigners mistook the call to prayer for the shriek of the air-raid siren alarm.

Everyone scurried for shelter. There was shrieking, grins and snarled explanations when the truth was realized.

ITALY AND ETHIOPIA

THE CAPTURE OF ADUWA BY THE Italians was celebrated in Italy in the usual way. Mussolini, naturally enough, is losing no opportunity of bolstering up at home the prestige whose ominous warning prompted him to conduct his adventure in Africa. It was at Aduwa that Menelik's warriors in 1896 defeated an Italian force of 7,000 men, 250 officers and their artillery, and its recapture yesterday was intended to be an act of "vengeance." Its value as an objective is chiefly sentimental. It is just twenty miles within Ethiopian territory.

On neither the southern nor northern fronts have the invaders penetrated to the chief defenses of the defending forces, although they are being resisted by regulars and guerrillas wherever it is possible. This, doubtless, is to give the Ethiopians time in which to complete their mobilization. When this has been done it is estimated the defenders will have 600,000 armed men in the field, with a host of guerrillas. As they penetrate farther the invaders will be confronted with enormous difficulties in bringing up supplies, which will involve a heavy drain upon their fighting strength. Bearing in mind that Ethiopia has an area of 350,000 square miles, and that most of it is mountainous, it is obvious enough that the invaders' successes so far have no great significance in relation to the ultimate outcome.

Meanwhile, the Council of the League of Nations has unanimously found Italy to be the aggressor in the war, and will report its decision to the Council today. The next step will be the determination of penalties to be recommended to the member nations of the League of Nations. These may be either economic or military. It is understood that military pressure has been ruled out. Economic penalties, which it is said have been agreed to by Great Britain and France, would consist of the severance of all trade and financial relations by member states with Italy. Also the present embargo on arms and other military supplies for Ethiopia—a serious handicap now—will be raised.

When it is recalled that the Italians in Africa are using labor and a large quantity of supplies imported from the Near Eastern and Oriental possessions of League members, that Italy is financially embarrassed and cannot stand a prolonged conflict without bankrupting herself and adding to the discontent which has been manifested in many ways, that even if she could conquer Ethiopia she could obtain no adequate indemnities, it is not hard to understand the seriousness to her of a League decision to apply economic penalties. This is altogether apart from the moral effect of the strong condemnation by a majority of the nations of the world.

Hence, it is not surprising that Mussolini has been noticeably moderating his transports recently, and is endeavoring to coax Great Britain on the one hand to modify her insistence upon the maintenance of the provisions set forth in the covenant of the League, and on the other to withdraw from the Mediterranean the additional naval forces she has dispatched there. There is no disposition in the British government to give him the free hand he wants, incidentally destroying the League and all agencies for collectively safeguarding the security of its members. The League suffered a grave setback when it declined to impose economic penalties on Japan for doing in Manchuria what Italy is trying to do in Ethiopia, and it is realized everywhere that another blunder of that sort would close the establishment at Geneva and set the stage for a world war whenever some crack-brained dictator wanted to start one. The League, having found Italy to be the aggressor, must thus impose penalties or quit. That is the alternative which now confronts its members, all of whom, by the way, have pledged themselves to this provision of the covenant.

The prospects of a general European war arising out of the Italo-Ethiopia war, which Italy with 200,000 troops in the field still describes as a bit of "police" work, have been reduced by the declaration of the German chancellor that Germany has no intention of expanding the orbit of the struggle and that she is arming only for her own defence. In any event she is not ready yet to meet the formidable coalition with which she is surrounded and the indications are that the conflict will be localized in Africa.

A POLITICAL FAIRY TALE

PREMIER BENNETT TOLD AN AUDI-ence in Prince Edward Island that Liberals were "in full retreat all along the line." He is plainly whistling for his own consolation, for Prince Edward Island only last July elected thirty Liberals to a Legislature of thirty members—a clean sweep.

Mr. Bennett said also that the people of Canada were just waking up to the fact that they were faced with a grave issue in the forthcoming general election. "Electors would have to express their approval or disapproval of the empire trade agreements." This is in line with his absurd assertion elsewhere that if it had not been for the trade treaties negotiated at the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa "Canada would have been insolvent to-day."

Such a statement, of course, is an insult to the intelligence of the Canadian people. The Canada Year Book, which contains an accurate analysis of Canada's business under all heads, no matter what government may be in office, shows that Canada's trade with the rest of the empire for the fiscal year which ended on March 31, 1935, four full financial years of Mr. Bennett's administration with the empire treaties going—or supposed to be going—full blast—was worth $132,000,000 less than it was in 1930!

Does Mr. Bennett expect the people of Canada to believe him when he says that if it had not been for the empire trade agreements this country would have been insolvent, when, as the figures of his Department of Trade and Commerce show, that in 1930 trade between Canada and the rest of the empire was worth no less than $632,000,000 and that now it is only worth $499,000,000?

Take Mr. Bennett's argument from another point of view. Canada's empire business to-day is less than $500,000,000—nearly a billion dollars less than it was with the United States alone in 1930. Incidentally our national wealth is estimated at about $30,000,000,000, so just where lies the danger of our "supposed" insolvency?

WHY?

A CORRESPONDENT WANTS TO know why prices of food-stuffs in Canada should soar because Italy has invaded Ethiopia. This is a legitimate query. There is no more substantial foundation in this incident for the upping of the prices of necessities of life in our country than there was in the bloody three-year war between Bolivia and Paraguay, yet Canadian prices were not affected by the conflict in South America.

The actual operations in the field have not been going on for more than a week. They have caused no scarcity anywhere, especially in Canada. Then why increases in the cost of commodities to the Canadian people? A government inquiry into the phenomenon should be instituted at once. People who profiteer because of a war in Africa which does not involve their country in the slightest way ought to be deported to the hottest spot in the Ethiopian desert.

UNNECESSARY

A SECTION OF THE LITERARY DIGEST. the aged-in-the-wood collector of newspaper comments, runs a page in which it lets its subscribers express their views. Here is one letter which appeared in the current issue, signed by John Kerne, of Hartford, Connecticut:

The claim that Italy has no room for its surplus population, offered by Italian leaders as justification of the proposed Italian invasion and annexation of Ethiopia, is made in disregard of the fact that Italy now possesses several sparsely settled colonies in Africa, which are large enough to absorb the surplus Italian population.

According to the statistics published in the "World Almanac for 1935," the colonial possessions of Italy in Africa have an area of 871,000 square miles, and a population of 2,500,000, or only three persons to the square mile. Italy has a population of 344 persons to the square mile, a density slightly greater than Connecticut, but much less than New Jersey.

If the present population of the Italian colonies in Africa were increased forty-two millions, which is the present population of Italy, the colonies would contain only fifty persons to the square mile. The proper thing for Italy to do is to develop and populate the African colonies it now possesses, and permit Ethiopia to go its way in peace.

Mr. Kerne obviously feels that it is not necessary for people to fly at one another's throats to settle a dispute. Most enlightened people think the same.

QUEEN ASTRID AND T.B.

THE BELGIAN POSTAL AUTHORITIES have announced that they intend to issue a special stamp in memory of Queen Astrid who was killed in a motor accident at Kuesnacht, near Lucerne, Switzerland, under most tragic circumstances.

It is announced that it will bear the portrait of the dead Queen and will be sold at a slightly higher price than the ordinary postage stamps of Belgium. This is only natural; but the human interest in the announcement lies in the statement that the money raised by the extra cost of the new stamp will be devoted to a national fund for the country's battle against tuberculosis.

The people of Belgium, who were deeply attached to Queen Astrid, as they were to King Albert, may be expected readily to buy this new stamp in order that Belgium's campaign against tuberculosis may obtain more funds for the fight.

Belgium, like other countries, has a serious tuberculosis problem. Those who know the mining districts of that little, but highly industrialized, country realize how difficult it is to keep the dreaded "white plague" in check.

It is to be hoped—and the Anti-Tuberculosis Society of the Dominion of Canada will hope, too—that the new stamp to be issued from Brussels will earn a large sum for its humane purpose.

THE SUNSHINE INN

A JOYFUL ITEM APPEARED IN THE Times the other day. It was headed: "Sunshine Inn Opens Again."

To non-residents this may not mean much; but to many Victorians it means a great deal. For three months this inn has been closed. It has been hard put to get funds. Twenty-five cents a week from every adult Victorian would work wonders.

Sunshine Inn was organized by Captain Gadsden on January 4, 1932, and since that time 293,674 meals have been served to those citizens who have been in want of nourishment.

This is a work which should command the support of all those who find it possible to help.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

CHILDREN; OLD FOLKS

When children do as they are told,
They're very nice to have about.
But if they disturb their grandfolds out
To have them racing in and out.

The grandmas think the little girls
Like dainty lilies ought to be,
With hair arranged in lovely curls
And frocks and stockings fit to see.

The grandpas think the little boys
Should thoughtful of their elders be
And never make the slightest noise
When mother's having company.

But this I think, if children were Always to do as they are told,
Should such an awful thing occur,
They'd be as solemn as the old.

And when I see a girl or lad
With manners overly refined,
I always think it is too bad
A child should have so old a mind.

Loose Ends

Mr. Dean follows the fine old tradition—so do our eccentric drivers—another Dean worries about his bones—we are told how to have our cake and eat it—and the morons are annoying.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

STOUT HEART

THERE is something stirring and tremendous about the picture of Mr. John Dean, as reported in this paper the other night, boldly walking across the street in defiance of our traffic lights. A policeman tried to stop Mr. Dean, according to the Police Court evidence. The policeman blew his whistle with those short little blasts that are supposed to terrify and humiliate law-breakers at our street crossings. Mr. Dean kept on going with a fierce light in his eye. He told Magistrate Jay (who must occasionally find his job richly amusing) that he was quite capable of looking after himself on the streets and didn't need any traffic signals to protect him. So far as I can make out, Mr. Dean showed no contrition or humility at all. He defied the whole of society in standing up for his rights as a citizen.

I say there is something tremendous about Mr. Dean boldly walking across the street while the poor regimented hordes of Victoria shoo and quaked on the curb, not daring to follow him, but wishing they had this old gentleman's courage. It occurs to me that Mr. Dean has often stood alone in public affairs and opposed the common opinion despite all efforts to move him and sometimes he has been right and the public wrong. It is a good thing that there are such men as he left to prick the tough hide of society occasionally.

The spectacle of Mr. Dean striding boldly across the street, paying no attention to the short blasts of the policeman's whistle, is historic and belongs to the grand tradition. It belongs with the spectacle of Drake at Plymouth Hoe, or Horatius at the bridge, or Pele at the dyke, of the stag at bay, our race and our civilization were built on that spirit. They weren't built out of red traffic signals.

Douglas Street will be overgrown with a jungle some day, its buildings covered with concrete and stone hidden by dead leaves and creepers, its traffic signals buried under ten feet of earth, but men like Mr. Dean will go on, even though it be in caves and under the stars, for they belong to every age. And perhaps in those times, along with the old story of Drake at Plymouth Hoe and Horatius at the bridge and the stag at bay, men will remember the legend of John Dean at the corner of Johnson and Douglas.

ECCENTRIC DRIVERS

MR. JAY, incidentally, says he is going to crack down on speeders in Victoria with increasingly heavy fines. This is a good idea. It has already reduced my speed to ten miles an hour, but it won't solve the problem of our traffic accidents completely. The chief trouble with Victoria is probably not fast driving but eccentric driving. We have carried our fine old tradition of freedom and individuality into driving as well as into afternoon tea, golf, clothes and accent.

Every time I drive a visitor about Victoria, he is appalled and delighted with our traffic. Whether he comes from Vancouver or New York, he invariably tells me that people couldn't get away with that kind of driving in his town.

You never know where men people are going to turn a corner. They wave from one side of the road to the other. They stop suddenly without warning so that you can hardly avoid hitting them in the back. They speed up at intersections. Outsiders tell me that we are the most dangerous, though probably the slowest drivers, in the world.

It is our unconquerable spirit again. And, in addition to that, about half the people driving cars should not be allowed to drive at all. It would be far safer for the community at large if Magistrate Jay would cancel their drivers' licenses and grant them permits instead to walk about the streets carrying each a vacuum bottle of nitroglycerine and some dynamite with short fuses alight.

A large percentage of the cars now operating also are more dangerous on the streets than shot guns loaded with buckshot. The law won't permit a man to walk along Douglas Street brandishing a shotgun at full cock, but some of the older cars, with two wheel brakes or no brakes at all, are twice as deadly.

ANOTHER DEAN

THE DEAN OF CANTERBURY, who seems to be a rare old gentleman, made a strong impression in British Columbia. But the best thing he said was not his explanation of Social Credit, but a stray remark uttered in Vancouver. There he said that in his heart he was a Socialist, in his head a Liberal and in his bones a Conservative.

This is the best description I have seen of the average man in this torn and tattered world. All of us are torn and tattered inside, however bold a front we may put on in public; all that is, but the hopeless partisans, who are not guided by reason and by no instincts higher than that of the wolf pack. In these matters the partisans have no hearts, no brains, no brains—only a blind yearning such as makes frogs croak in the spring swamps and bears hibernate in the autumn.

The rest of us, like the good Dean, all stand up in our political attitude. Our hearts, our brains and our bones never agree. Our hearts cry out for an immediate upheaval, a revolutionary change which will end all this senseless suffering and cruelty in the world. Our brains tell us that things can't be done that way, without making serious mistakes. Our hearts, our brains and our bones never agree. Our hearts cry out for an immediate upheaval, a revolutionary change which will end all this senseless suffering and cruelty in the world. Our brains tell us that things can't be done that way, without making serious mistakes.

On the whole, I should say that the bones were the most important of the three. Our hearts aren't reliable enough for such larger purposes. Our brains certainly aren't equal to the difficulties of these times or we should have solved them long ago. In the end, we depend on our bones for guidance. What we feel in our bones, our deeper instincts and prejudices, will determine the course of public affairs.

Reformers should remember that. If they only succeed in convincing our hearts by rousing our sympathy, if they only convince our brains by sheer reason, they have still the largest job left to be done. They have still to convince our bones. For though a man may do many things at the instigation of his brains and heart, he will always slip back, he will never maintain his progress, unless he really likes the new state of things, unless they satisfy him in his bones. That is why most revolutions fail. They alter only the heart and the brain. Before many years are out, the public has slipped back into the old rut, set up a new dictator, because its bones weren't in the revolution.

KEEPING THE CAKE

THE APPEAL of Social Credit has something to do with these elemental forces. Social Credit appeals to many whose hearts and brains are in favor of scrapping the whole economic system but whose bones are still in favor of private property. Social Credit promises to produce all the abundance of socialism with all the freedom of rugged individualism. In brief, Social Credit is the system which promises to let you have your cake and eat it.

But once you start to set up the economic controls, balances, price-fixings and general supervision of business which Social Credit involves, you must make as much profit as the industry may be owned in name by private individuals but it will be completely under the direction of the state. The owners will be simply agents of the state in running their business. And as they become annoyed and can't make as much profit as they would like, they will let down on the job or openly revolt. Then the state will probably have to take over the industries one by one to make them work. Social Credit is probably the intermediate step into socialism, but the Social Creditors will never admit that.

Meanwhile nothing is quite so annoying, quite such a reflection on the average intelligence of the race as to have some wealthy low-grade moron say to you: "Yes, the Dean of Canterbury is all right, but none of these fellows tell you what they are going to do for money?" When a man says that to you, don't try to argue with him. He can't discuss the subject. He probably has money but he doesn't know what money is. He probably imagines that it has something to do with gold reserves. Don't waste your time on him. Smile him down and leave him unconscious on the corner. He will be just as intelligent and useful to society that way as walking around.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

To the Editor:—It is during such days as we are at present enjoying when Victoria is in the midst of her Indian summer—that an office worker can fully realize the benefits to be derived from daylight saving.

These days, while the atmosphere is still warm during the late afternoon, darkness comes soon after 6 o'clock and for those who do not leave work until 5 or 6 o'clock the Indian summer for which this city is so famous is useless.

I understand that the forthcoming civic election the people of Victoria are to be given an opportunity, by plebiscite, of deciding whether they are in favor of longer days during the summer months.

Let us hope that when the electors go to the polls to decide this issue they will keep in mind facts cited above and support it, rather than listen to the narrow-minded arguments of the opposition.

DAYLIGHT SAVER.

STRIKE BALLOT

To the Editor:—A strike ballot (secret) was taken on Thursday, September 26, by the employees of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd., with the following result: 297 for and 191 against. We have applied for consideration, but in the light of our past experience with the federal Department of Labor we cannot be confident that we will get satisfaction, for they refused us a board when the company dictatorially locked out 500 employees. Later reopening the mine, the operators discriminated against forty-five men among whom were the members of the grievance committee and the gas committee. This has filled the miners with deep resentment.

We cannot be assured that we will be granted a conciliation board, as that the company will accept it. Therefore we are building a strike fund and preparing for decisive action to put back to work the forty-five discriminated men.

ORIENTALS

To the Editor:—More and more it is becoming evident that the anti-Chinese propaganda within this province is a menace to Canadian freedom. It is characteristic more of an anti-Jewish Hitler, than of Canadian citizens standing for election in democratic country. Anti-Jewish propaganda has plunged democratic Germany into a bloody dictatorship, menacing world peace, and pagan. How can anti-Oriental candidates expect to govern Canada wisely and sanely, when they are obsessed with the worst of racial feelings? More likely, they will lead Canada headstrong into a brutal anti-Chinese dictatorship, after the style of Nazi Germany.

Already, two federal candidates in Victoria have openly exposed their racial platforms, and a third has declared his objections to the Canadians, whose Oriental skins are but of a slightly different shade. They are paving the way for an anti-Chinese regime within Canadian soil, and if they are allowed to go to Ottawa, without renouncing these platforms, Canadians will have their first bitter taste of an anti-Chinese despotism in British Columbia.

It was not only embarrassing, but misleading to the public in general, of all His Majesty's subjects in whatever political party they are aligned to, each striving to attain better economic conditions and rightly so, too. However, I wish to point out that this was very bad taste and entirely out of order.

It must be remembered that it becomes every loyal subject of the empire, or any political party whatsoever, to bear in mind that His Majesty the King is supreme, and is above all party politics, and that leaders and their followers should refrain from such practices as what I am referring to in this particular instance and govern themselves accordingly. ## PLANT FREAKS

To the Editor:—I have a flowering Ruchin which has bloomed all summer more profusely than ever before. As I was removing dying blooms from the plant a day or two ago, I noticed what seemed to be a green leaf "sticking" to a bloom.

On closer inspection, I was very much surprised to find the green leaf was a true part of a petal and not stuck. On the same branch, in the same group of blooms, I found four with the same freakish condition. Also on an adjoining branch, but entirely separate, I found four others in the same condition. This is a house plant. I am sending you a twig with the freak blooms for your inspection.

SHOULD BE VICTORIA TRUST

To the Editor:—The trouble with Mr. Flunkett is that he considered himself elected by the people of Victoria to take orders from Ottawa. I have been to a couple of his meetings, at which he was repeatedly saying that he was instructed by Ottawa that such and such was the case and that Ottawa had informed him he was to announce or say this or that.

No, Mr. Flunkett, you seem to have the wrong idea of it. The function of a member for Victoria is not to be an apologist for Ottawa or the big corporations to Victoria, but to let Ottawa and the big corporations know that the citizens of Victoria want to have their rights say in what is going on.

C.O.F.

To the Editor:—The Oriental vote is a burning question—Why? Because the successive governments here have not given serious consideration to what is going on, thus for many years, peaceful penetration by Japan, British Columbia being the salient point, not all by any means, of the coolie class as are the Chinese for most part which come in to this country.

It remained for the C.O.F. Party, voiced by their leader, Mr. Woodsworth, to bring this danger before the Canadian people and to suggest how to cope with it. An increasing alien element in our midst may be a source of great danger in the future.

How would the Liberals and Conservatives cope with it? They have no realization of its seriousness. So far the C.O.F. Party maintains that regulations as to the necessity of becoming citizens and the difficulties created for those who refused to comply, will put the brakes on Japanese invasion and activities here.

That is as I understand from my inquiries as to the Chinese. The necessity also lies in raising the standard by education, of their way of living, so that they will no longer be under-cutting white labor, which they are doing still in spite of recent regulations. In all work except domestic labor, for which they are paid much higher wages still, than white women.

There may be some other less controversial way of solving this increasingly menacing problem, if so it will be found, no doubt.

What really? All these insinuations as to a secret understanding between the Communists and the C.O.F. Party. No one knows better than the Communists that they could not do more to injure the C.O.F. cause than by offering, as they did in Vancouver, support to it. Then this whispering campaign originated from them, if secret understandings all from the same source, with intent to bring defeat to a party which will not cooperate with them.

Actually the Communist is a fan-

YOUTH AND WAR

To the Editor:—I read with pleasure the article on the subject of "Canadian Youth's Attitude to War," which appeared in The Victoria Daily Times of October 5, and I may say that I sincerely endorse the attitude of the writer on war. I feel that Mr. Butler wrote it quite correct, as he put it: "War, stripped of all its gaudy trimmings amounts to nothing more than the people of the belligerent nations fighting each other while a small, irresponsible group of capitalists and industrialists make enormous profits as a result."

I feel that at the present time, with war between Italy and Ethiopia actually begun, and with the grave possibility as a result, of Britain (which would probably include Canada, as part of the empire) being involved, that the youth of Canada should take definite and concrete steps to make sure that 1914 is not repeated. Those youths who have a conscious understanding of what war means, including "gun-todder" of the next war, should do something about the situation other than to think or talk. They should in some way become organized, so that they would have a louder voice when the "political jugglers" try to force conscription of Canadian youths in the event of another great war.

Chemainus

The regular monthly meeting of the Chemainus Women's Benefit Association, No. 19, was held in the picture house. The president, Mrs. Murray, was in the chair and twenty-two members present. A letter was read from Mrs. LeGallie, W.B.A. Centre, Vancouver, saying she will form a clinic here Wednesday, October 8. Final arrangements were made for the card party and old-time dance October 8, which will be the commencement of the winter series. At the next meeting the forty-third anniversary of the organization of the W.B.A. will be held. Mrs. Jacobson was appointed musician for the remainder of the year. Two members were reported sick. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Chemainus Recreation Club recently held the annual meeting. The directors for this year are as follows: W. McAllister, president; F. C. Work, vice-president and house committee; Doug MacIner, membership committee; J. Webster, entertainment committee; Wes. Morris, ladies' and children's activities; W. Wyllie, sports committee; F. Long, secretary-treasurer.

Cecil Loughlin, who was in charge of the bowling last year will take charge of that department again. The club hopes to revive badminton again, thus augmenting the membership, which is now less than 100. More attention will also be given to boxing and wrestling.

October 10 is set for the first directors' meeting, at which the current season's activities will be set forth.

Strawberry Vale

For their bi-monthly social, the choir of Wilkinson Road United Church was entertained last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, Casey Road. Games and community singing were enjoyed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Jones, assisted by Miss Eva Jones. A vote of thanks to the host and hostesses was proposed by the choir president, E. Boorman.

GROUP OFFERS MYSTERY PLAY

Little Theatre Association Will Present "Ten-minute Alibi"

Leslie Lamb, the director of "Ten Minute Alibi," the Victoria Little Theatre Association's next production, is being congratulated for undertaking to produce a play presenting many technical problems.

The plot is hinged around a clock, to operate which it is necessary to have a double dial, which requires the entire attention of one man behind the scenes throughout the whole play.

It is not often that theatregoers see two scenes at once on a local stage. By clever lighting effects the onlookers see not only the actor on the stage telephoning, but also the man to whom he is speaking. This simultaneous effect Mr. Lamb accomplishes smoothly and delicately without any strain on the imagination of the spectator.

The mystery drama, "Ten Minute Alibi," a play of intense emotion and gripping suspense, will be shown to the public at the Empire Theatre, Wednesday, October 16.

The cast consists of several well-known local actors including Noel Cusack, Bert Bailey, William Lamb, Dan MacDonald, Arthur Kerr, H. F. Hewitt and H. J. Davis.

Stories in STAMPS

Women and children thronged the markets of Managua, capital of Nicaragua, on the morning of March 31, 1931, business was thriving along the main streets, when suddenly a shock rocked the area. It was an earthquake that brought death to 2000 and ruin to almost the entire city.

Eleven shocks within a period of two or three minutes, then fire, bursting of water mains, and complete devastation of important buildings.

In the centre of the city, the new Post Office building, that had been opened seven months before, was a heap of ruins. So Nicaragua issued a series of two stamps, one of which is shown here, showing the Post Office before and after the quake. The pro-

Free Books Cost Board $116.39

Nanaimo, Oct. 7.—When requests for free school books amounting to $116.39 were presented the Nanaimo Board of School Trustees by A. S. Towell, school supervisor, on Friday, the supervising remarked that the list had been growing since the depression started. He could not say if they were all legitimate cases or if the news spreading that free books were being supplied was causing the increase. Trustees John Barby remarked that he noticed that some were genuine cases, but some were not.

"Some folks won't buy books, and spend money on booze. If they have no more love for their children than that, why should I have?" he said. Chairman J. Shaw appointed Mayor Barsby and Trustees J. Kerr and G. Muir, who are also aldermen, to check the list and make recommendations.

October 25 will be a school holiday, to enable teachers to attend a convention of the Central Vancouver Island Teachers' Association, which convenes in Nanaimo, October 24-26, it was announced.

FORMER NURSE WED SATURDAY

Miss Evelyn Barker Becomes Bride of Mr. Bernard J. Duncan of Esquimalt.

A charmingly arranged evening wedding was solemnized by Rev. Father A. R. Wood in the church hall at 6:30 o'clock, uniting in marriage Evelyn Constance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barker, George Road and Bernard Joseph, son of Mr. R. A. Duncan and the late Mrs. Duncan of Kerr Avenue.

The hall was attractively decorated by the girl friends of the bride, with autumn flowers and foliage, forming a lovely setting for the simple and impressive ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a graceful figure in her ivory satin wedding dress of ankle length and following the lines of the modern flaring silhouette. Her long veil was shaped to her head and held in place by clusters of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses, carnations and sprays.

Miss Muriel Barker, sister of the bride, was her sole attendant, wearing powder blue silk organdy frock with blue bandeau in her hair, and carrying a bouquet of pale pink snapdragons and pink chrysanthemums.

Mr. Sam Taylor supported the groom.

During the signing of the register, Miss Dorothy Baker, accompanied by Miss Eloise Manuel, sang "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony the bride and groom received the congratulations of their friends, standing beneath an archway of ivy, gladioli and Michaelmas daisies. They were assisted in receiving by the bride's mother, Mrs. J. F. Barker, who wore a gown of fawn georgette, with harmonizing accessories and a corsage bouquet of roses and maidenhair fern.

STRONG DOUBLE FAILS

Permits Declarer to Analyze Opponent's Cards Properly and Make His Contract With Ease

By W. E. McKENNEY.

The dark horse of the National Masters' Individual tournament was Walter S. Turner, who journeyed all the way from San Francisco to New York to compete in this event. A newcomer in eastern bridge circles, he immediately won the admiration of the other players by his excellent play and his genial personality.

Today's hand, which was played by Turner, is a good example of bold bidding, supported by skilful play. East's double did not prevent North and South from reaching their game contract, but instead gave valuable information by locating most of the high cards in the East hand.

THE PLAY
West led a spade in response to his partner's bid, and when North and East both played low, declarer won the queen. He now led the ten of hearts, which East won with the ace. The king of diamonds was led by East, but Turner allowed it to hold the trick, and East then entered to a small club. Based on the bidding and play up to this point, declarer was now able to count the East hand for five spades and four diamonds. This meant that East probably held only two hearts and two clubs originally, so that a three-three break in either suit was improbable. On this reasoning, declarer won the first club trick with the ace and cashed the king of clubs immediately. Then he played the jack of hearts, retaining the lead in his own hand. This process stripped the East hand of both clubs and hearts.

Today's Contract Problem

Turner then played the ace of diamonds, and another diamond to East, who cashed his additional diamond trick. But then East had only spades to return. This enabled declarer to win two more spade tricks, and the jack of spades provided an entry in dummy so the king and queen of hearts could be cashed to make declarer's contract. ## "Jalna" Play to Be Staged in London

London, Oct. 7 (Canadian Press).—Maso de la Roche, the Canadian author, has the unique experience of preparing for a view of "White Oaks of Jalna" on the stage this month, and of reading the reviews on the film version in America.

She has not seen the film and naturally would like to have been in the audience which had the first say on Finch and Renny and the old grandmother of the Jalna books. Maso de la Roche hopes to visit Canada next summer.

Masoch's southern boundary would have been straight had not a large plantation owner, J. Hardman Walker, used his influence in having a jag made so that his land would be inside the border.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRIDGE

SOME CHILDREN MAY TAKE LONG TIME TO ADJUST TO SCHOOL

The problems of school begin for some children the very first day. By the end of the first week there are all too many mothers who are ready to call school life a failure and attribute to the child's inability to take the child out of it.

A week, or several weeks, is too short a time in which to determine a child's fitness for school. So much depends upon the type of child—he may be aggressive, bold, eager, for attention—or timid—and on his previous experiences.

LIKE DUCKS TO WATER
The child who has long played with groups of children is already accustomed to the give and take of group play. The child who is used to being away from his mother accepts this situation with no unhappiness. Some children enjoy the learning attention they receive when they answer up promptly and fulfill teacher's suggestions.

But what of the child who is a typical "Mama's baby" and has scarcely been out of her presence until school began? What of the child who has constantly played alone and who is so confused and excited by the presence of many children that he can do little except watch them, seemingly deaf to commands to act himself?

HOMESICK AND FRIGHTENED
Or the child may be homesick and thus physically and emotionally out of tune with the school—and waiting only for the sound of the bell to release him from his unhappy confinement.

Undoubtedly he would be frightened by the sound of his own voice and terrified of the teacher whose power has been so exaggerated by adults given to saying, "You must do this or the teacher..."

Our lastest on "Training for Independence" might be a good foundation stone for school happiness. It may be had for a self-addressed stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldridge of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

HE ISN'T A FAILURE
It is a shame to call a child a failure because for the first few weeks or months he is busier learning how to be a pupil than he is concerned with just learning. So far as the child is concerned none of this time is actually wasted, and parents and teachers should have more patience with the dawning and a greater understanding of the vital significance of this necessary adjustment to a new kind of world. Unless the child is really too young for the work or in some way mentally or physically handicapped, we know that inevitably the adjustment will be made.

To-morrow: "Weaning Should Not Be Delayed After Ninth Month."

Victorian Order of Nurses—The regular monthly meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses will be held Tuesday, October 8, at 2.30 p.m. at 420 Cook Street. A full attendance of all members is particularly requested by the president.

Some of the place names in the region around Lake Tana are shown for the first time on a map published in this country. Chambers Says Unified
Thought Will Give Canada
Best Solution

Making his forty-sixth address of the present campaign, Alan Chambers, Liberal candidate in Nanaimo, spoke in the Canadian Legion Hall at Langford Saturday evening.

Mr. Chambers laid stress on the need for a constructive programme of reasonable proposals for Canada and showed how the Liberal Party, if elected to power in Ottawa, would have the support of eight other Liberal administrations in the provinces to modernize the B.N.A. Act and carry out a steady policy of progress.

Failure of the Bennett government to properly deal with unemployment as a national matter was criticized by the candidate. In this, he said, lay Mr. Bennett's chief failure. Handling it on a municipal basis was disastrous. He touched on tariff matters and the Combines Act, advocating all excess profits tax so that while employees would not be exploited, initiative would be maintained.

popular prices, and Mr. Hatt's intention in his new venture is to duplicate this success in an entirely new field.

"I believe that success in business to-day is largely a matter of specialization," says Mr. Hatt, "and in looking around for a business opening I have been attracted by the opportunity to provide the housewife with a choice of every modern convenience for cooking and household heating. Oil, coal, wood and sawdust are among the most popular fuels to-day and I propose in my new venture to afford the housewife with the widest possible choice of equipment using these fuels."

Mr. Hatt's decision to remain in Victoria will be welcomed by his business and club associates here. He was one of the first presidents of the Credit Granters' Association and is a past president of the Rotary Club. Among the many services he has rendered to public bodies is his identification with the establishment of the Tourist Trade Development Association and membership in the Chamber of Commerce.

Hatt's Stove Works will open their new showroom at 1321 Government Street, almost opposite the New England Cafe. The public is invited to inspect the latest developments in ranges, furnaces, oil and sawdust burners, and coal stoves.

IN UNIVERSITY

Dr. Weir Tells McGill Alumni of Small Percentage of College Graduates

Are universities turning out too many students?

Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, gave his answer at the dinner of the McGill University Graduates' Association Saturday evening at the Empress Hotel. The gathering was held to mark the convocation at McGill in Montreal the same day which the new president, Dr. A. E. Morgan was installed.

Dr. Weir said that with a population of 750,000 British Columbia had 120,000 in the elementary schools, 20,000 in its high schools and 2,000 in the university, with 300 graduated from the university each year. At this rate, he said, it would take twenty-five years to graduate 1 per cent of the population which would be 7,500.

"I do not think that is too many students from which to pick leaders of tomorrow or to enlist those qualified to contribute to the advancement of our province and our Dominion," Dr. Weir went on.

He said some people seemed to think the only "isms" that should be studied at a university should be Conservatism and Liberalism and they called professors and doctors of learning "brain trusts." He listed as functions of a university, first, teaching for which well-equipped persons could only be developed through college courses; second, research through which contribution is made to human progress, and third, extension of adult education to bring enlightenment to the people through a detached study of various problems.

It was from the seven liberal arts that the university took its origin and they had always been identified with the university, Dr. Weir said. Removal of the faculty of arts would remove an institution from the sphere of the university to the sphere of technology.

Dr. Weir paid a tribute to McGill's new president, speaking of his scholarship and his vision to appreciate the fundamental principle that a university can never be a centre of old fogies, but a centre of living truth and a servant of culture. He also spoke of McGill's traditions and the fact that the institution was probably Canada's best known university, almost a national university. He named McGill graduates of noteworthy accomplishments in the realm of arts, medicine, politics, economics and other branches of human endeavor.

Dr. Hermann Robertson was named president of the local association, Harry L. Smith, vice-president. H.

Alan Maclean, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. T. H. Johns, auditor. The following constitute the executive, Muriel Aylard, D. J. Angus, Professor P. H. Elliott, G. M. Irwin and Dr. S. G. Kenning.

Glorious Colors At Fall Flower Show

A. M. Scott Wins Bankian Medal; New World Record Believed to Have Been Set in Potato Competition

Reflecting all the glorious colors of the autumn, the Fall Flower Show in the A.O.F. Hall, last of the Victoria Horticultural Society's three annual exhibitions, was the centre of attraction for flower lovers on Saturday.

With long tables and stands full of chrysanthemums, asters, dahlias and gladioli, the fall show from the standpoint of exhibits and displays was believed to be one of the best in the history of the horticultural society.

Particularly fine were the non-competitive displays this year, put on merely to encourage others to raise the standards of their plants and to show how to arrange flowers in order to get the finest color combinations.

Chief among these exhibits were the displays of Rockham Gardens, arranged by H. Whitehead; Mrs. J. H. Hibberd; Elder's Dahlia Gardens; McVie Mayhew, H. Rowan and S. W. Raven.

A. M. Scott has won the Bankian medal, coveted trophy of gardeners. He is believed to have scored the largest number of points in Saturday's show and, after his victories at the two previous shows, he won the prize with ease.

The Bankian medal is given by the Royal Horticultural Society to the gardener who scores the most points in the Victoria Horticultural Society's three shows.

WORLD RECORD
Aside from the flowers, chief interest in the show centred around the potato competition where a new world record is believed to have been established. The contest was to determine how many pounds of potatoes of good quality could be grown from one pound of seed potatoes.

A. E. Powell of 325 Maddock Avenue was first with 305.3 pounds of potatoes. The previous world record is believed to be 256 pounds. From six potatoes were planted fifty-three hills, the largest of which weighed fifteen pounds. The largest of Mr. Powell's potatoes tipped the scale at three pounds nine ounces.

P. R. Leighton was second with 99.5 pounds of potatoes. A freak vegetable display at the show brought a large number of exhibits and created much interest and amusement.

Apart from the competitive classes in the chrysanthemum division, contests were held for tomato growing, dahlias and roses.

The results of the judging were as follows:

Nanaimo City Opens Football Season With Smart Victory

THE SPORTS MIRROR

THE NEXT big prize fight between Joe Louis and Max Baer may have Detroit as its location. There has not been a fight of any importance in Detroit for so long that it is virtually a virgin territory which the late Tex Rickard recommended. Mike Jacobs is now in Detroit and an announcement is expected shortly. Jacobs is going over the situation with Mayor Frank Cossens, Frank J. Kevin, president of the Detroit Tigers ball club, and others, and has found everybody willing to co-operate to the fullest extent.

The Louis-Schmeling scrap, with the young negro tackling the sharp-biting German in his first major effort in his home city, would play to just as many people as Jacobs and Levy can pack into the home of the American League baseball champions from 435 "ringlets" on down and back into the distant recesses of the field glass sections.

For lack of a more capable opponent, Louis is likely to engage either Walter Neusel or Ray Impey. The prize fight department's Christmas fund show at the Bronx Coliseum in late November or early December.

After all, it doesn't make much difference who of the current crop Louis takes on. They'll all go the same way, with Louis in the head and it would be worth something to see the tail Neusel or the very large Impey fall in sections.

Louis may appear in Europe under Jacobs' direction after the first of the year when Jacobs personally will visit Schmeling in Berlin and when he feels positive that he will definitely close the match.

There is too much money involved for Jacobs and Madison Square Garden, which has Jim Braddock in tow, not to get together in the staging of a championship contest starring the spectacular Louis next fall.

Friends advised Jack Dempsey not to go behind Baer the other night. Sensing what was to happen, they feared that the result would cost the former titleholder's tremendous prestige, which it did not.

Dempsey wasn't too keen about seconding Baer, but had a seven-and-a-half per cent interest in the fight. While Butcher Boy and was told by Ancil Hoffman, manager of the Californian, that it was about time he again did something toward earning his money.

"This is awful," he kept repeating. "We couldn't get our man to throw a punch." The Man Mauder explained after the one-sided battle. "It is hard to believe that a fellow could have slipped as far as Baer did in a year he had absolutely nothing."

Dempsey, with Baer's able assistance, preserved the spotless record of ex-champions as trainers, handlers and seconds.

John L. Sullivan got nowhere with Sandy Ferguson.

Jim Corbett led Jim Jeffries, the original Hollow Shell, into the ring at Reno, Gentlemen Jim met with no success with Tom Cowler and another one or two. Jeff fooled with Bob Armstrong and a couple of palookas in more recent years.

Jack Johnson gave up on George Godfrey, and peddled his contract to Jimmy Dougherty for a pitance.

Tommy Burns found that Arthur Peckey had a china chin after poor Luther McCarthy collapsed and died in the Calgary ring.

Jack Sharkey, then world champion, was behind Ernie Schaas that tragic night in the Garden when the big blond boy slumped to the canvas under a light left jab delivered by the harmless Primo Carnera and was carried from the platform to die.

It seems that ex-champions are jinxes when they try to put someone else in their sizable shoes.

Art Ross Heads Minor Ice Loop
New York, Oct. 7.—Arthur H. Ross of the Boston Bruins National Hockey League Club was unanimously chosen president of the Canadian American League at a meeting here Saturday.

The hockeyman approved entrance of the Springfield club to the Canadian-American league, and also put the official seal on the acquisition by New York Rangers of the Philadelphia franchise. The Springfield club was formerly operated in Quebec.

ROYALS-RANGERS BATTLE TO DRAW

Nanaimo, Oct. 7.—Nanaimo City marked its entry into the 1935 soccer season by scoring a 3 to 0 win over North Shore United at the Central Sports Grounds yesterday. The game had bursts of scintillating soccer, and was featured by the introduction by the home team of two new players, Bo Rusicka in goal, and Jimmy Spencer, inside right.

Spencer added materially to the strength of the attacking division and displayed his aptitude when the defence was penned back by the hard-fighting Redshirts. Daisie Waugh scored Nanaimo's first goal twenty-five minutes after the opening whistle on a pass from Spencer. With only a minute left to the breather, Spencer again took a share of the limelight when he scored from in front of the North Shore net, with Cummings well beaten.

KULAI INJURED
Kulai retired with a twisted knee five minutes after the fixture got under way, and was replaced by McGregor. Nanaimo's only remaining signed player, Waugh obtained the home's last goal three minutes before the end of the game, when he passed Harris, North Shore, dribbled the leather twenty-five yards, and scored as Cummings came out to meet him.

Eleven hundred fans turned out to witness the game. Mat Johnson refereed.

The teams follow:

North Shore—Cummings, McGill, Harrison, Henderson, Kozolin, McSweeney, Dempsey, D. Kulai, McManus, Wardor, L. Ashton, Murphy, Harris and R. Ashton.
Nanaimo City—Rusicka, Gavin, Edmunds, West, Knight, and Thompson, Kulai, Spencer, Waugh, Gray, Sandland and McGregor.

PLAY TO DRAW

Vancouver, Oct. 7.—Honors were divided in the opening game of the Inter-city League at Con Jones Park here Saturday between Vancouver Rangers and New Westminster Royals.

Rangers kept the Westminster team hemmed in their own half during most of the first period, but were unable to score. Swede Larson finally opened the scoring when he picked up a loose ball that Sanford dropped and kicked it into the net.

INCREASE LEAD

Keddie increased the Rangers' lead to two. He headed in a perfect pass from Johnson.

Royals made their only counter of the period shortly before half time. Instead of shooting when in position Harvey flicked the ball to Gray, who shot while on the run and the ball went by Gies into the net for one of the closest goals of the game.

After the interval Kerfoot gained possession on the left and crossed to Larson. The latter feinted as though intending to head the ball, but let it go through to Johnson, who drove it into the goal mouth to put the Vancouver team two up again.

Turner passed to Gray, who returned the ball to Watchorn and he scored the Royals' second goal. Five minutes before time Watchorn scored again on a pass from Wheeler and tied the count.

Uplands Seniors Conclude Tourney

The seniors of the Upland Golf Club brought their annual competition to a successful close on Saturday evening when they held a dinner in the clubhouse. The prizes were presented to the respective winners by the president, Dr. P. Buchanan.

In the afternoon the final for the Buchanan Cup was decided and it was won by C. E. Swaisland by one stroke from Dave Sheret. There were four players in the final and the results were as follows:

Gross	Net
C. E. Swaisland	80
Dave Sheret	82
Fred Smith	84
C. A. Thompson	86

BURNSIDE AND RANGERS WIN

Chalk Up Victories in Opening Fixtures of Saanich Soccer League

Burnside, smooth working soccer eleven and last season's winners of the Norman Whittaker Cup, symbolic of the league championship, garnered its initial victory in the 1935-36 league schedule which opened yesterday, when they defeated the Victoria Indians 5 to 3 at Hampton Road park.

In the other game billed for the opening day, Saanich Rangers, newly formed club in the league proved formidable foes when they chalked up a 4 to 1 win over Marigold, winners of the Ted Hawkes Knockout Cup last season, at the Reynolds Road grounds. The Burnside eleven held a slight advantage in play over the Reserve squad although both teams displayed a fairly commendable brand of soccer. The half-time score stood 4 to 3. Those garnering markers for the Burnside team were H. Alexander, George Smith, Ralph Alook, Jr., Charlie Bell and M. Constable. The Indians' tallies were made by R. Piston, S. Skilleit and J. Joseph.

The Rangers-Marigold match proved fairly even in the first half, with both teams playing a defensive game. The score at the rest period stood 1 to 1. The second half play was one-sided with the Rangers pushing across three markers in this game. Brown, Marigold right wing, garnered his team's only marker. H. McDonald, "Scotty" McKenzie and Johnny Crow chalked up the winners goals. Crow pushed across two.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

WOOD'S ALLOY—A METAL, WILL MEET IN THE HOT SUN...

W-7-35

Strange as it seems, lead mixed in the correct proportions with bismuth, tin and cadmium, all of them metals, produces an alloy that will melt at 63.2 degrees Centigrade, or about 150 degrees Fahrenheit. Although it is generally classed as a lead alloy, there is nearly twice as much bismuth in it as lead. Wood's alloy is made of fifteen parts bismuth, eight parts lead, four parts tin and three parts cadmium. Melting points of these metals are: bismuth, 519.3; cadmium, 609; lead, 621; tin, 449—all of them much higher than the melting point of their alloy.

William de Morgan, son of the great Augustus de Morgan, was born in London in 1839. Most of his life he spent as an artist and potter. He rediscovered the lost art of obtaining certain colors in glazed tiles, and invented many devices used in the art. He formed a company which produced pottery on a commercial scale, and some of his own work is to-day prized as museum pieces.

He did not begin writing until he was sixty-four years old, and later retired from business to begin a highly successful literary career. His first and most widely read novel was "Joseph Vance," published in 1906.

Other writings included "Alice for Short," "Somewhere Good," "When Ghost Meets Ghost" and "The Old Madhouse."

Even Count

Mean drove through for an unassisted counter to open the second quarter, but Morpitt again put his team on even terms with a solo rush.

L. Munro, husky defenceman, countered for the visitors only to have Bill Dickinson take a long pass from Vinny Hartnett and tie the score.

The two British Columbians reversed the order a few minutes later to give Richmond the lead for the second time.

In the last minutes of the quarter McLean fought through the entire Richmond team for unassisted scores and Terriers left the floor at half time with a 6 to 5 margin.

Morpitt shipped a pass half the length of the floor that Cavallin snared to square away. It was the third quarter end under way. Bill Wilson gave Terriers their lead back before the quarter ended on a lone dash.

TAKE FINAL LEAD
Morpitt put Richmond on even terms with a snap shot from close in early in the final quarter and a minute later Cavallin rushed through to put Richmond in the lead for the third and last time.

Butch Boettger, Len Wilkes and Hutton put the game away for Terriers as they fought through the Richmond-defence for individual scores, then fought off a determined coast rally in the final two minutes while Hugh Kelly, Orilla wingman, was serving a penalty for rough play.

SUMMARY

Eastern Champions Turn Back Richmond Farmers, British Columbia Titleholders, 10 to 8 as Canadian Championship Series Gets Under Way

Vancouver, Oct. 7.—Orilla Terriers to-day were over the first hurdle in their battle to repeat last year's triumphs in Canadian amateur lacrosse championship final for the Mann Cup. Saturday night the youthful speedsters from Orillia turned back a hard-fighting crew of Richmond Farmers, British Columbia representatives, 10 to 8.

While 8,500 frenzied fans alternately cheered or groaned the easterners, holding an edge in youth and weight, pounded through the first three-quarters with never more than a slender one-point lead, then in the final session, as the desperate westerners pushed to the front for the third time during the game, they cut loose with an attack that swept their opponents back and netted them three all-important goals that spelled victory.

Richmond's squad showed a sturdy defence and bursts of speed, but they could not match the steady, inexorable drive of the Terriers' brigade. Although the score was tied eight times throughout the sixty minutes of action, Richmond led only three times, and each time that Terriers dropped back Coach Frank Carroll rushed out his first-string line-up to recapture control of play.

LEADING SCORES

Allan McLean, 185-pound rover on the visitors, shared scoring honors with his teammate, Len Wilkes, and a pair of Richmond snipers, Cavallin and Bill Morpitt. Each counted three markers of their team's totals.

Actual shots on goal were fairly evenly divided, with Map Smith in the Richmond nets turning aside twenty-four drives, while Ted Hall in the Orilla goal ward off twenty-three.

The far west title aspirants opened the scoring after more than five minutes of the first quarter had elapsed. Johnny Cavallin slipped across the Orilla goal mouth and took a pass from Angie McDonald to whip a low shot past Hall.

Len Wilkes and McLean combined to even matters, with Wilkes taking the pass. F. Hutton put Orilla one up when he baffled the Richmond defence for an unassisted counter. Just before the quarter ended Bill Morpitt grabbed Sonny Erington's goal-mouth pass to tie the score.

Chicago Cubs Win Fifth Game of World Baseball Series

Lon Warneke and Klein Lead Club To 3-1 Victory

Former Blanks Detroit Tigers For Six Innings; Klein Clouts Home Run

WARNEKE HAS INJURED ARM

By ALAN GOULD

Wrigley Field, Chicago, Oct. 7.—Chicago Cubs came fighting back to whip Detroit Tigers 3 to 1 yesterday in the fifth game of the world series, but it was a costly victory.

The National League champions lost Lonnie Warneke, their ace right-hander, and still have only a long-shot chance to keep the Bengals from capturing the biggest money prize in the history of baseball's classic.

Warneke pulled a muscle in his pitching shoulder and was forced to leave the game after blanking the Tigers for six innings with three hits and outpitching his Arkansas rival, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe for the second time. The lanky Cub star, who shut out the Tigers in the opening game, was credited with his second triumph, but big Bill Lee, freshman right-hander, barely staved off a ninth-inning thrust to save the game.

NATIONAL CATCH
With one run in and base-runners on third and second as a result of three Tiger hits in the final frame, Phil Cavarretta, nineteen-year-old Chicago first baseman, reached into the lower boxes beyond the Detroit dugout to make sensational catch of "Pete" Clifton's pop foul and ending the game.

The Cubs thus saved the winning margin provided by the booming bats of Billy Herman and Chuck Klein, broad-shouldered former National League batting champion, Klein signalled his first appearance in the series as a Cub regular by driving a home run into the right-field bleachers in the third inning, after Herman had tripled.

Labelled a "$125,000 'lemon'" because of his failure to live up to his great batting reputation after being bought from the Phillies for that vast sum two years ago, Klein got an unexpected chance to perform the hitting heroics.

An injured finger forced Freddie Lindstrom, regular centerfielder, to retire and Klein was assigned to right field, with Frank Demaree moving over to centre. Lindstrom hurt his left hand making a stab for Charlie Gehring's double in Saturday's game, which the Tigers won 2 to 1.

He may be out for the remainder of the series but the Cubs are not worried as much about that as they are about the loss of Warneke.

WARNEKE HURTS ARM

Warneke pitched a full inning after developing his sore arm. He felt the muscle strain for the first time in pitching the last ball of the fifth inning, to Rowe, who grounded out to Bill Jurgens at short. Catcher Gabby Hartnett detected the trouble as Warneke's control showed signs of slipping in the sixth. The Tigers were retired in order but there was a sudden burst of activity in the Cub bullpen. Charley Root as well as Lee warmed up furiously. But the young right-hander got the call as Warneke left the game.

Only once during his six-inning stretch was Warneke menaced by Tiger bats. The only hitter who gave him any difficulty was Manager Mickey Cochrane, who singled on his first two turns at bat. Mickey's second-base hit opened the fourth. Pete Fox also singled, after Gehring and Goose Goslin filed out, but Billy Rogell was retired on an infield roller.

Fighting with their backs to the wall, the Cubs rose to the emergency and held the Tigers at bay in the last three hectic innings while a crowd of 49,337 fans maintained a continual uproar of encouragement. The home team lashed into Rowe's offerings, after being throttled for three frames, and scored again in the seventh. They raged around Umpire George Moriarty, storm-centre of the series, as he called out Bill Jurgens at the plate on Fox's brilliant throw to Cochrane. They scored, nevertheless, as Augie Galan raved home on Billy Herman's double to right-centre.

FIRST INNING

Detroit—White called out on strikes. Cochrane singled to centre. Gehring tossed out by Herman. Cochrane advancing to second. Herman threw out Goslin at first. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SECOND INNING

Detroit—Fox popped to Herman. Rogell lifted a high one near second, which Herman caught. Owen grounded sharply to Jurgens and was tagged out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

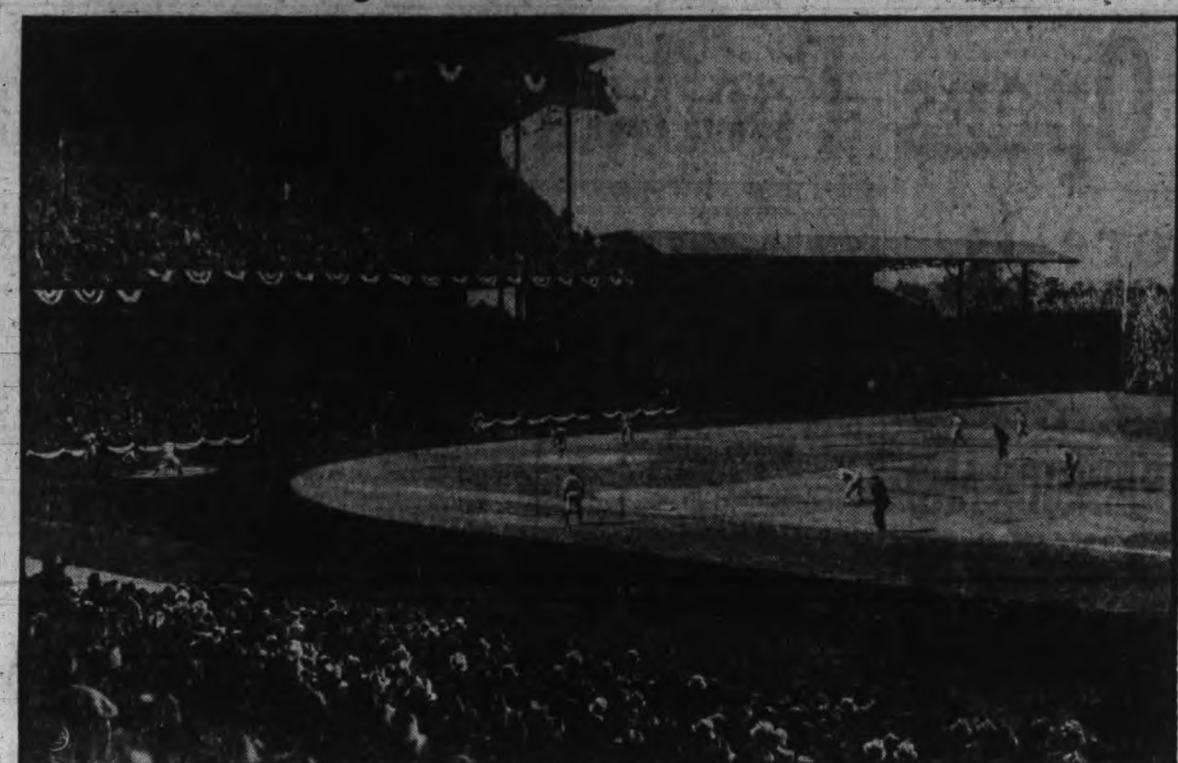

Chicago—Cavarretta bunted to Owen and was tagged out at first. Hack walked. Jurgens went down swinging. Warneke singled, sending Hack to second. Galan popped to Rogell. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

THIRD INNING

Detroit—Clifton popped to Herman. Rowe bounced to Warneke, who ran to first base to make the putout. White grounded out to Cavarretta unassisted. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Chicago—Herman lined a base hit to left centre for three bases. Klein

Cochrane's sharp grounder went through Owen, who was charged with an error, but Jurgens was called out at the plate on Fox's relay to Cochrane. Galan ran to second on the throw-in. Herman hit a double, scoring Cochrane. Klein grounded out, Owen to Rowe. One run, two hits, one error one left.

NINTH INNING

Fox singled, scoring Gehring and sending Goslin to second. Rogell hoisted a short fly to Klein. Gerald Walker batted for Owen. He grounded to Herman and was tossed out at first while Goslin reached third and Fox went to second. Clifton's foul was caught by Cavarretta. One run, three hits, no errors, two left.

Thistles-City In Soccer Wins

Defeat Esquimalt and Victoria West, Respectively, in First Division Engagements; City Leads League With Two Straight Victories

Defeating Victoria West 1 to 0 after the Saanich Thistles had marked up a surprising 2 to 0 victory over Esquimalt, Victoria City took sole possession of first place in the first division of the Victoria and District Football League on Saturday afternoon. Both matches were played at the Athletic Park and attracted a good crowd.

During the interval between matches Roy Barnes, Scotty Stewart and Gordie Bell, members of the Nanaimo team which was runner-up for the Canadian championship, were presented with their medals by Alderman James Adam, British Columbia representative of the Dominion of Canada Football Association.

Saturday's results placed the City in first place with four points as the result of two straight victories. Esquimalt and the Thistles are tied for second, each with a win and a loss, and the Wests are in the cellar with two defeats in as many starts.

CHALMERS BRILLIANT

Feature of the Thistles' win over Esquimalt was the work of Gordie Chalmers in goal for the Saanich club. He turned in one of the best performances of his lengthy career and throughout the eighty minutes play blocked at least half a dozen shots that would ordinarily have been good for goals. Harper and Esler, the Saanich backs, also played well and gave Chalmers plenty of protection.

After Esquimalt had forced play for a good half hour the Thistles suddenly broke away on one of their kick and rush attacks and Johnny Murray booted the ball into the Esquimalt net with a low shot that Hood couldn't get near. Half time found no change in the score.

With the start of the second half the Thistles substituted A. Murray for Cockin and Joe Crowe for Mowat. The changes seemed to put new life in the club and it showed to better advantage although Esquimalt continued to hold the edge on the play. The Dockers worked desperately to get the tying goal but they just couldn't beat Chalmers.

With eight minutes to play the Saanich team got away for its second counter, Gibson converting a pass from A. Murray. With a two-goal lead the Thistles took no chances and protected their margin until the finish.

A. McKinnon refereed.

The teams follow:
Saanich Thistles—Chalmers, Esler, Harper, Williams, Mowat, Crowe, Leggett, A. Murray, Gibson, Campbell, Gilroy and A. Murray.
Esquimalt—Hood, Joe Watt, McConnell, Evans, Edwards, McLean, McAllister, Stewart, Worrick, Holm and Cook.

CITY BEAT WESTS

George Payne, clever outside left, scored the only goal of City-West's match to give the former eleven a sweet victory.

Both teams played a fine defensive game throughout the eighty minutes, but their shooting attempts were inclined to be poor. Their big downfall was in failing to follow up on their shots.

The first half saw play evenly divided with a fairly good brand of football being displayed. A number of corner kicks and free kicks were awarded the teams in this half, and the only close scoring attempt came near the end of the half, when George Payne let drive a sizzler at the goal, but Restell, West's netminder pushed it over the top of the goal. Halset and Gibbons, City fullbacks, repulsed a number of West's attacks near the end of the half.

About fifteen minutes after the resumption of play Restell made a wonderful save when he dropped on a ball and then threw it clear. Play swung in the other direction, and the Wests muffed a set-up with Wally Rowe out of his net.

During the last part of the play the City staged a determined rally and made a number of attempts to score, and it was at this time that a fine combination play between Robins, Victoria City's centre forward, and George Payne, outside-left, resulted in Payne beating Restell with a hard drive to the corner of the net, to make the score stand 1 to 0 at the final whistle.

W. Cull refereed. The teams follow:
Victoria City—Rowe, Halset, Gibbons, Moore, Pearce, Gibson, G. Payne, Robins, Osmann and Price.
Victoria West—Restell, Reside, Laird, Storey, Barnes, Stewart, Bell, McCaig, Dunlop, Morgan and Brown.

Montreal Bank Head Is Here

Jackson Dodds, President Bankers' Association, Sees Improvement

General signs of improvement in the business of Canada at present were noted by Jackson Dodds, general manager of the Bank of Montreal and president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, who is here on a short visit. Mr. Dodds believes that in due time this improvement will be felt by the banks in the form of a general increase in borrowings for commercial purposes. In the meantime the banks of Canada are following the same course as those of Great Britain, the United States and other nations in keeping their surplus funds temporarily employed in the form of short term loans, in spite of the low returns.

TOUR OF INSPECTION
Mr. Dodds, who is accompanied by Mrs. Dodds and his private secretary, E. A. Fox, arrived here from Seattle on Saturday, after visiting the Bank of Montreal's branches in Chicago and San Francisco. They will proceed to Vancouver to-night, returning to the head office by way of Edmonton, Winnipeg and Toronto. In each city bank managers from the surrounding districts will assemble to confer with Mr. Dodds.

The purpose of Mr. Dodds' trip is to study banking conditions on the spot, in preparation for the bank's annual report, which is published in December. Business problems peculiar to each district will also be discussed at the regional meetings.

Mr. Fox, who has accompanied Mr. Dodds on several trips through Canada, the United States and Europe, is of the opinion that in a few years there will be a big opening for young men in the banking business. The banks, he said this morning, are already beginning to feel the lack of trained young men.

Baker is charged with robbing Mrs. Ramsay of $19.50 and using personal violence. He was brought here for trial from Penticon where his arrest followed the broadcasting of a description by Saanich police.

The case was remanded until Thursday afternoon when it was intimated the chief prosecution witness may have arrived from Calgary.

Bowker Creek Plans Advance

Special Intermunicipal Committee Approves Grade For Drainage Project

Greater Victoria's inter-municipal committee, composed of representatives of the city, Saanich and Oak Bay, to-day approved a new grade for Bowker Creek and decided to submit plans of the project to their respective councils for endorsement.

The scheme, originated several months ago, is aimed at reducing the flood menace in various sections of the city and the two municipalities. Saanich declared itself, through Reeve William Croft, ready to make a start at any time. Victoria, through Alderman F. R. Brown, stated the project was one of the first the city would consider under its new $100,000 loan plans. But Oak Bay, through Reeve R. W. Mayhew, declared there was not one chance in a thousand that municipality would start work this year. Oak Bay, through its Reeve, also intimated that district was not prepared to face all the costs required for the work, the major features of which, the Oak Bay municipal leader thinks, lies in his district.

Mayor David Leeming presided at the meeting at which Aldermen F. R. Brown, John Worthington and Walter Loney as well as City Engineer C. M. Irwin represented Victoria. Oak Bay was represented by Reeve Mayhew, Councillor W. Ellis, Municipal Clerk R. F. Blandy and Engineer C. H. Topp, and Saanich by Reeve W. Crouch, Councillor H. O. Borden and Engineer H. H. Allen. John Baxter was appointed secretary of the committee.

Following the submission of the plan showing the proposed grade, Alderman Loney recommended its adoption. Alderman Worthington suggested the representatives of the different municipalities recommend its endorsement by their councils. Reeve Mayhew wished it to be understood that committee's recommendation was in no way binding.

Alderman Loney sought assurance the plan would not be altered. STRAIGHTENING IN SAANICH

Mr. Allen drew to the committee's attention a modified plan which would straighten out winding parts of the ditch in his municipality. When it was straightened, water would flow much more rapidly from Saanich into the city, he said.

As debate started on the general question, Alderman Loney remarked: "It will be next summer, before we do anything or it any way."

"We can go ahead with our share of the work any time," Reeve Crouch said.

Reeve Mayhew stated the main object in Oak Bay had been improved and the creek had been given its annual cleaning in his municipality.

"We have the project in mind as one of the first under the $100,000 loan programme," Alderman Brown stated.

Mayor Leeming remarked that if the city did its section of the ditch before Oak Bay the water would be speeded on its way into the south-eastern municipality.

OAK BAY PESSIMISTIC

"I don't think there's any chance of that," said Oak Bay, who would straighten out winding parts of the ditch in his municipality. When it was straightened, water would flow much more rapidly from Saanich into the city, he said.

As debate started on the general question, Alderman Loney remarked: "It will be next summer, before we do anything or it any way."

"We can go ahead with our share of the work any time," Reeve Crouch said.

Police Seeking Practical Joker

Kidnap Note Thrown From Car on Carey Road Found by Saanich Man

A practical joker, who may land into serious trouble if located by police, yesterday afternoon was responsible for police investigation of a reported kidnapping in Victoria.

About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a Saanich man walking along Carey Road found a note thrown from a passing car which read: "Help Me, I'm Kidnapped. Phone K—"

The man immediately turned the note over to police, who telephoned the number printed to discover that the party answering the phone knew nothing of the message and the family was quite safe.

CHIEF FAVORS MORE SIGNALS

Will Ask City to Install Three Additional Lights in Business Area

The success which marked the installation in Victoria of automatic traffic signals has prompted Chief of Police Henley to make an appeal to the City Council and police commission to approve an application for three more signals to be installed early next year.

The intersections to which the chief proposes to apply these are: Johnson and Government Streets, Yates and Blanshard Streets and, possibly, Port and Government Streets.

In regard to the first corner, the chief pointed out that it probably handled as much traffic in a day as there is at the corner of Yates and Douglas Streets.

Johnson Street is the main highway from the city to Esquimalt, and in addition to the usual daily traffic there is almost a steady stream of cars passing through this intersection at night, going to and from the beer parlors.

At Yates and Blanshard Streets the chief "sees" an "automatic" signal would serve in the best interests of pedestrian safety. The large crowds which attend the theatres are in constant danger with traffic from Oak Bay coming down Yates Street, and proper control at this point would be invaluable, the chief states.

The chief at present is giving preliminary consideration to installing a light at Port and Government Streets. While this is a busy intersection the narrowness of Port Street on both sides of Government present a difficulty which would not easily be overcome unless there was a change in parking regulations for this area.

The chief has received the Victoria Automobile Club's letter expressing satisfaction with the signals and requesting the installation of a fifth signal at Pandora Avenue and Douglas Street. The chief agrees a signal here would bring better control, but does not think the need at this point is as great as at those already mentioned.

By employing the city's electrical crews the chief feels the cost may be kept at a minimum as there was $600 saved on the installation of the first four signals by the use of city men.

Child Rescued On Waterfront

Seven-year-old Douglas Gillan Saved By Twelve-year-old Lad

Seven-year-old Douglas Raymond Gillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gillan, 469 Kingston Street, was saved from drowning on Saturday afternoon when he fell in the sea off the Dallas Road waterfront from a landing at the foot of St. Lawrence Street.

Douglas was saved by George Robertson, twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Robertson, 101 Ontario Street, who pulled him out by the hair after the lad had submerged twice.

For his presence of mind in saving the boy, George Robertson is to be recommended for Royal Humane Society honors.

The incident took place about 3 o'clock, when Douglas was fishing from the boat wharf. He fell off and was floundering around, several feet from the wharf when the Robertson boy ran to the wharf.

George got down as low as he could on the ladder from the landing, which reached to the water, and grabbed Douglas's hair. He succeeded in pulling him to the ladder and then lifting him out.

Douglas was in a semi-conscious condition when pulled out but soon recovered. He fell into about twelve feet of water.

Ethiopian Emperor Calls World's Attention to Italian "Invaders' Methods"

By JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Addis Ababa, Oct. 7.—Emperor Haile Selassie yesterday delivered an outspoken indictment of the war methods of Mussolini and bitterly assailed them for what he called their measures for "civilizing" the African empire.

"Mr. Mussolini," said the and-eyed King of Kings, "charges us with being barbarians and says he wishes to civilize us. Is the wanton slaughter of women and children by air bombs and machine guns the kind of civilization he wishes to give us?"

"We cannot think the great Italian people, celebrated through the centuries for their arts, humanities, letters and culture, have so little chivalry left toward womankind. I cannot believe all of Mussolini's people support him in such a campaign."

"White Parade" At Playhouse

New Lasky Production Said to Offer First True Picture of Student Nurses

Three days under schedule, Director Irving Cummings brought "The White Parade" to a brilliant finish a few weeks ago at the Fox Film studios in Hollywood. The picture is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

The final scenes of this ambitious Jesse L. Lasky-Fox Film production, covering both the opening and closing sequences of the picture, were spectacular and impressive. Several hundred white-uniformed girls paraded up a ramp, eyes riveted on a cross in the distance, symbolizing the unending parade of America's young women who dedicate their lives to careers of self-sacrifice and service to humanity.

"The White Parade," besides its strong entertainment value, its heart touching pathos and laughter, gives the profession of nursing, and stands as a graphic tribute to the country's "young ladies in white," numbering more than 200,000. The picture is laid in a modern training-school for nurses, and is the first film produced on this phase of the profession.

Also being shown on the same programme as the second feature picture are Jean Parker and Stuart Erwin in "Have a Heart."

"Two For To-night" To Open To-morrow

Ernest Cosart is one of Paramount's better stand-by's. As soon as he finished his role in "Accent on Youth," he was pressed into service for the part of the butler in the Bing Crosby comedy with music, "Two For To-night," which comes to-morrow to the Dominion Theatre, with Joan Bennett, Mary Boland and Lynne Overman also in leading roles.

Like many actors who since have achieved stardom, Cosart made his debut in the theatre in a male domestic role. Charles Laughton and Herbert Marshall are two outstanding stars who started their careers "butting."

Also being shown on the same programme is Jack Holt in "Awakening of Jim Burke." This is an exciting drama of engineering produced by Columbia pictures.

Little Orpheum Shows Fine Film

Out of the tense drama of the courtroom, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios have brought the powerful story of "Evelyn Prentice," co-starring William Powell and Myrna Loy, which opens to-day at the Little Orpheum Theatre.

The picture marks the third appearance of Powell and Myrna Loy as a co-starring team and is the industry's response to the public's demand for a re-appearance of the popular pair who made screen history in "Manhattan Melodrama" and "The Thin Man."

"Evelyn Prentice" presents Powell

WIVES always profess to regard their husbands as deep, dark, unfathomable mysteries, moved by motives that are beyond their comprehension. Every day you hear a married woman say: "I just can't understand John, and I can't imagine why he acts the way he does."

And, queerly enough, considering that curiosity is a characteristic of the feminine sex, not one wife in a million ever sits down and tries to unravel the riddle to which she is married and find out what makes her husband do the things he does.

For instance, when John comes home grim and grouchy in the evening and kicks the cat and spanks the baby, his wife sets it down to ill temper and crankiness and the general cussedness of husbands, and she resorts in kind, or bursts into tears and pities herself for being married to such a brute. It doesn't occur to her that there is nothing personal in John's disagreeableness. His tantrum is only blowing off steam engendered by the accumulated worries and anxieties of the day in the only place where he can let himself go. He's dog-tired, nerve-frayed, and the way he acts is no sign that he doesn't adore his wife and worship the baby and think his home the greatest place on earth.

Wives are always complaining about their husbands never talking at home. They say that John retires into his newspaper as soon as dinner is over and only grunts when he is spoken to, and if a store dummy were substituted for him, they would never find out the difference. It would have just as good a conversational line.

And they say they can't understand it, because John is so bright and cheery when people drop in in the evening. When they go out he's always the life of the party and he sells everybody's dinner table in a roar except his own, and, goodness knows, they don't know why he does this way. Yet they would not need to be Mrs. Sherlock Holmes to solve the mystery.

All day long John's been talking, arguing, persuading, jolting bosses, customers and clients until he is sick of the sound of his own voice and other people's voices, and he longs for the healing balm of silence. All day long he has been on a strain of wearing the smile that won't come off and making himself entertaining and agreeable, and it is just ineffable bliss to be with a wife who takes him as he is and who doesn't expect him to make any wisecracks.

One of the great grievances of wives over which they shed barrels of tears is that their husbands cease to make love to them as soon as they are married and just take them for granted. "Before we were married," a woman would say, "my husband spent hours telling me how he adored me and could not live without me, but it has been years now since he mentioned the state of his affections to me. He used to tell me how beautiful and wonderful I was and notice every time I did my hair a different way or put on a new dress, but if he should pay me a compliment now, I would drop dead with surprise. He's good and kind and generous to me, but I can't understand if he still loves me why he doesn't tell me so."

The explanation is simple. It's just because a man does love his wife so thoroughly and completely that it doesn't seem necessary to talk about it any more than it does to call continual attention to the fact that he has two eyes or a nose. He's fed that it was just as silly to be forever assuring his wife that he loved her as it would be to go about proclaiming that he was an honest man. Besides, he isn't much on lovey-dovey talk and he thinks that when he works his fingers to the bone to keep his wife comfortable that he has given her proof of devotion that even a woman could understand.

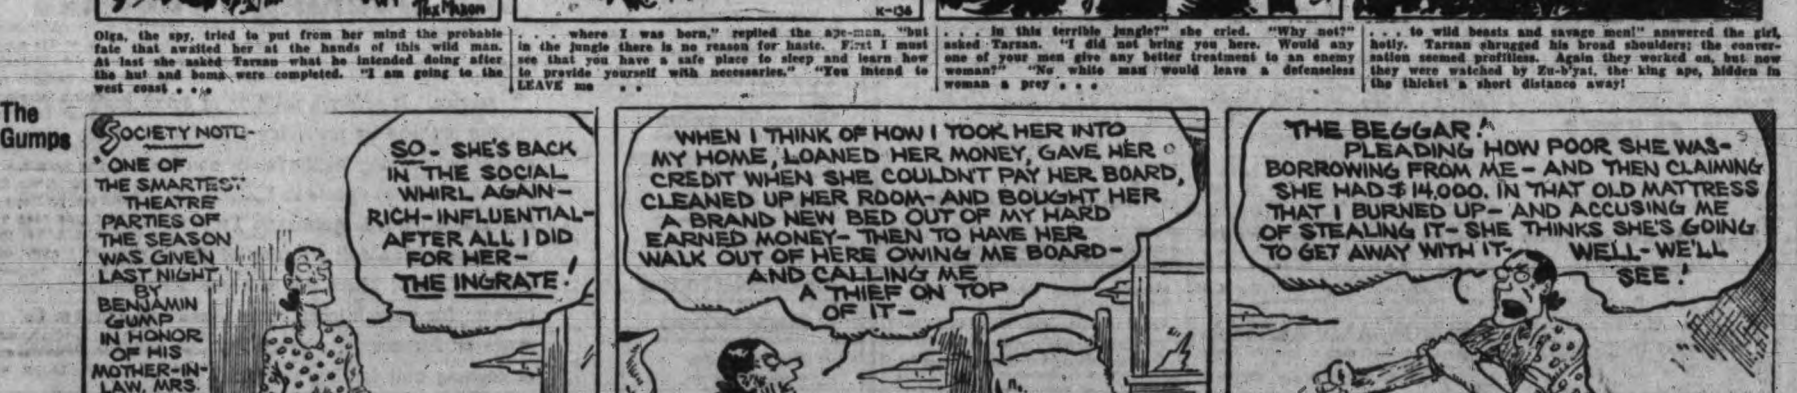

Another thing wives can't understand about their husbands is why they make such ado about being the head of the house and being consulted about domestic matters about which they know nothing, and why wives have to ask if they can join a club or go to see their mothers, and why the men are so opposed to giving their wives allowances on which to run the house instead of doling it out nickel by nickel. Yet surely a girl baby should be able to solve these problems.

It's because it inflates a man's superiority complex to have some one he can boss after having been bossed himself all day by his overlords. He doesn't care a rap what his wife does, and in his soul he secretly knows that she is going to do what she wants to, anyway, but he gets a kick out of granting her permission to do it. Same thing about the allowance. Not many husbands are tightwads. Most of them are overly indulgent to their wives and the only reason they refuse to give them an allowance is because they enjoy posing as a benevolent Providence from whom all blessings flow. Even when a man publicly berates his wife for her extravagance he isn't grudging her a rag of fine clothes. He is only boasting of how well he provides for her.

A lot of women are always wondering why their husbands do not like to take them out. Generally the reason is that they are poor playfellows; they are wet-blankets. They can't enter into the spirit of an evening off. They spoil the play by wondering if she has checked the covers off. They take the flavor out of the best dinner by harping upon the price and wondering if they can afford it, and that is why they get left at home next time.

Every wife whose husband goes off after another woman wonders why he does it, and recalls the litany of her own virtues to show how incomprehensible he is. She has been such a good wife, so faithful, so thrifty, so industrious, such a good cook, and she never realizes the reason that she lost out was because she let herself get dull and frumpy and unattractive. Of course, husbands are curious creatures, but it really would pay their wives to try to find out why they do as they do.

Uncle Wiggily's Shooting Star

By HOWARD R. GARIS

One evening after dark, when Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunt were sitting in the garden of the Hollow stump Bun-gal, the little orphan rabbit looked toward the sky and said:

"Oh, Uncle Wig! See how high the light-nings are flying."

"Those aren't lightning bugs, Bunt," said the rabbit gentleman. "In the first place, they are too big. Lightning bugs are so high as those flickering gleams you see down there, the time of their glowing bugs is over. There will be none around here."

"Then what are they?" asked Bunt.

"Shooting stars, far up in the sky," said Mr. Longears.

He told Bunt about the stars, how they are other worlds, like our own, which are on fire all the while, blazing and burning, or are they like our moon, which is a sort of world where the fires shining by the reflected light of the sun.

"But what makes the stars shoot, Uncle Wig?" asked Bunt.

"They aren't exactly whole stars," Bunt explained the rabbit uncle. "They are only small pieces of stars that have been broken off. They fly toward our earth at pieces of a broken rock, struck with a hammer, fly in all directions. Some of the pieces of stars fall close by our earth and they rush so fast through the air, faster than any plane, that they set themselves on fire."

"Oh, I think that's wonderful!" said Bunt, as she and Uncle Wiggily sat in the garden, watching the shooting stars fall to the sky and exclaim:

"Oh, Uncle Wig! I think a piece of shooting star has fallen into our bun-gal!"

"Hadn't we better run and hide in the bun-gal?" asked Bunt.

"Have no fears, Bunt," said Uncle Wiggily. "Most shooting stars are burned into dust before they reach the earth. Once in a while a large piece does fall and burn like a comet. Such pieces are called meteors, if large, or meteorites, if they are very small."

"Just the same," said the orphan rabbit, holding her paw over her pink nose so it wouldn't twinkle, "I think that shooting star is going to fall close to us and it may hit us. We'd better run!"

Uncle Wiggily looked up he began to think Bunt might be right. "Criminy!" something that started through the air like a shooting star came closer and closer. It seemed aimed at the two rabbits.

"Come on in the bun-gal!" cried Bunt. "I'm not going to be hitashed up by a shooting star!"

CLOSER AND CLOSER

As it seemed to be coming closer and closer, Uncle Wiggily hopped with Bunt into the bun-gal. No more were they safely inside than they heard, outside, a crack, a rattle and a bang.

"Oh, the shooting star has fallen into our garden!" cried the little orphan bunny. "Run out and see what it is!" Uncle Wig! I'd love to see a meteorite!" Mr. Longears leaped out of the window.

Bunt, however, growing tired of the excitement, stayed in the bun-gal.

"Did our fire come down here, Uncle Wiggily?" she asked.

"No, Bunt," said Mr. Longears, laughing. "Your flashlight on a kite really made them think it was a shooting star. Oh, you little rascal!" Then he laughed and the doggie boys picked up their fallen kite and flashlight, and all the spare fire will give the gasoline a ride in your rag. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's peppermint stick.

England at Top of List As Regards Visitors From America; Fall and Winter Cruise Programmes Now Being Prepared

New York, Oct. 7.—As the summer season draws to a successful close, transportation and tourist organizations, both at home and abroad, are speedily formulating extensive plans for fall and winter travel, according to the monthly survey forecast released to-day by the American Express Company. Classifying the "pleasure industry" as a seemingly separate entity in a world apart from commercial and political anxieties, the survey states last week's heavy sailing of British delegates to the Oriental Congress at Rome, the newly announced publicity tourist campaigns of Egypt, Morocco and Jugoslavia and the late cable checkings from abroad which indicate that Old World travel factors are preparing widening plans for winter travel, to date uninfluenced by international relations.

Conspicuous in ocean travel is the increasing interest and bookings for short cruises. For the Caribbean, West Indies, Gulf Ports and South America, October will usher in eighty-two regular and cruise tours. Bermuda, which received 26,191 visitors from May 1 to August 31, has by advance hotel reservations, indications of its greatest October season. World cruises are experiencing their best advance bookings in years, with patronage from European ports exceeding by 30 per cent the reservations of the corresponding period of last year.

SPECIAL CRUISES

Prominent in the cruise picture are the eight newly announced low-priced winter cruises from British ports to South America, and the additional four South American cruises from German ports. Notable in ocean travel is the lively tourist interest in South America manifested by 30 to 50 per cent over the corresponding period of last year. Advance regular passenger business scheduled from Pacific Coast ports to regions in the South Seas is proving so heavy that special cruises this fall are to be eliminated on one line, with other lines reporting record sailings. The new mainland extension service between Australia and New Zealand is increasing the tourist scope. The European-India service from England, beginning October 20, will be supplemented by the new St. Lawrence of over 1,000 passenger capacity. Cable advice from Italy that the four-Black Sea services will be continued with an extension of Russian ports for winter, insures convenient North European travel through Russia to the Mediterranean and the Near East.

Reviewing the domestic season, the survey places cross-country rail travel from Chicago at 35 to 50 per cent over last summer; long distance bus passenger traffic at 15 per cent increase; organized and conducted tours, as high as 75 per cent increase, with traffic to the National Parks recording the best season since 1929. All previous records of travel to the Grand Canyon were broken in August and September, with Yellowstone and Glacier enjoying their largest month. From New England, where approximately $400,000,000 was spent by 4,000,000 summer visitors, to California, nearly every region has reported increases in September month visit attendance. The closing month will give Motor its biggest gain in travel from both rail and airport. Preliminary estimates place Alaska travel at 10,000 tourists for the season.

FOREIGN TRAVEL

England heads the list as being first in the number of American visitors, with the month of September showing 35 per cent increase over the corresponding period last year. On September 15, the official report from four Balkan states placed their summer tourist business at 27 to 35 per cent increase over 1934. Germany, which reports a 21 per cent increase in foreign visitors for July and August, from figures taken in 1934, leading resorts and cities, is estimating the year's tourist business at 25 per cent over for August. Baden-Baden 19,106, with the North Sea and Baltic resorts registering increases from 50 to 100 per cent over 1934.

Around the Docks

The British freighter, New Westminster City, Capt. J. W. Fette, is to-day at the Ogden Point piers loading the masts and spars for the King's new yacht and 600,000 feet of Vancouver Island lumber. She came in yesterday morning and will get away in a day or two.

The Skagerrak is expected tomorrow morning to load a parcel of lumber for Australia.

DUE TO-NIGHT

Unless further delayed by fog in the Straits, the Blue Funnel liner Idion will reach Victoria this evening about 10:30 o'clock, from ports in China and Japan.

Outward bound to the Orient the Tyndareus cleared from Vancouver yesterday with a capacity cargo of 19,000 measurement tons, including flour, lumber and general. She passed off Victoria, on her way to sea, at 1 o'clock this morning.

FROM ENGLAND

Bringing passengers and cargo for this port, the Furness motorship Pacific Shipper, is expected here to-night or first thing to-morrow morning from the United Kingdom, via the Panama Canal and California ports. She called into Seattle this morning.

SALES SATURDAY

This week's sailing from Victoria to the Orient will be taken by the American Mail liner President Grant, which will get away Saturday with a large party of United States dignitaries, including Vice-president John N. Garner.

VISITS COAST

SEA CAREER IS STARTED

Walter Sturdy of Vancouver, Who Has Pilot's License, Joins Empress of Canada

Starting his career at sea, Cadet Walter R. N. Sturdy of Vancouver was aboard the Canadian Pacific flagship Empress of Japan when she sailed from Victoria late Saturday afternoon for Honolulu and the Orient. He has signed on the ship for three years.

To Cadet Sturdy has fallen the distinction of being the first merchant seaman to join the British Empire to enroll for aviation and receive a pilot's "A" license.

Flying is a new field of endeavor for the merchant service. Cadets receive theoretical studies on board H.M.S. Conway, the training ship at Liverpool and practical experience at Hooton Airfield, Liverpool.

Young Sturdy, who has just left H.M. Conway, came within twenty minutes of creating a record in training for the solo flight. The requirement calls for twelve hours before taking solo, and the record for the British Air Ministry is five hours. The Vancouver boy made it in five hours and twenty minutes.

"The mercantile fleet of Great Britain has been the greatest in the world, and we must now build up a mercantile marine in the air, which will have the same position," Lord Genshull stated recently. "Multi-engine flying boats, in which fifty or 100 passengers can eat and sleep just as they do on board ship, will undoubtedly supply the express trans-oceanic service of the future. I hope we shall have experimental service running within the next twelve months."

PLAN ROUTE TO CHINA STATION

Test Flights Being Carried Out This Month Between Penang and Hongkong

London, Oct. 7.—The four-engine Imperial Airways air-liner Dorado, commanded by Captain W. Armstrong and with First Officer Richardson, Wireless Operator Chapman and Flight Engineer Hands as the other members of its crew, left the London Airport, Croydon, on Monday, September 16, en route for Penang, British Malaya. From Penang, during October and November, this air liner will make a series of survey and experimental flights with a view to the provision of a regular connecting air route between the England-Australia routes and Hongkong.

Six return flights are to be made between Penang and Hongkong. The first return flight will be in the nature of aerial surveys, and each single journey will occupy three days, while the remaining four return flights, taking one and a half days for each single journey, will be to gain practical experience as to the operation of a Penang-Hongkong service on a permanently commercial scale, and connect with Imperial Airways' London-Singapore service at Penang.

The air route to be followed in these test flights will be from Penang to Saigon, French Indo-China; from Saigon to Toulon, and from Toulon to Hongkong. The air route has been selected as the point of contact with the England-Australia route because it has been found that, in the operation of existing time-schedules on the main England-Australia service, connections with these main air-mails in both directions can be made at Penang with the least possible delay.
